Thread: [> \[CONTEST\] \[OFFICIAL GROUP USERBAR\] \[YASPRESENTS\] \[\$125\] \[#1\] <](#)

Notorious - April 5, 2019, 7:33 am

Recently purchased Cyber Gentlemen and I am looking to rebrand.

Quote:Requirements

Group Name: Yaspresents / (yaspresents);

Style: I want the userbar to have the old HF userbar style to it.

Examples

Old Template

I don't have any other information to provide you with.

If you are selected as the winner, you will receive an official group position which will be incredibly exclusive and $125.

I am looking for a whole pack of GFX if possible (userbar, header, dividers and forum icons).

Post your submissions below.

I'm very curious to what the name of the group means. Whether there is a story behind it?

Notorious - April 5, 2019, 4:18 pm

Nobody interested in this?

Dorrance - April 5, 2019, 4:21 pm

I guess not, that's tuff I just subscribed to the thread

No offense, but that basically means spending a lot of time making graphics for a group invitation that I don't care about because I do this for money.

Yes, that's all the prize is, just a group invitation.

but well, there might be some bored designers out there , good luck anyways .

Well, let's look at whether that's really the case or not.

I could go on forever but limited myself to 10.

It seems that interests / activity has changed drastically.

This, therefore, lowers the value of group positions.

went through those links you posted and i see no good quality userbars userbar, header, dividers and forum icons for an invite is kinda lowballing .

you might throw some money for the winner at least to make those graphics ?
anyway good luck

Notorious - April 6, 2019, 10:00 am

Now added a $100 price tag. Hopefully, this attracts interest.

This, therefore, lowers the value of group positions. Lol come on man, all those threads are 7-8 years old. Literally, every UB contest I've seen that ended with good UBs had a prize with it, it's not rocket science as to why.

Just think logically, why would anybody spend time making stuff for invitation to a group that doesn't even exist? You couldn't even bother to reply to the first guy about the group's name, nor have you provided any information as to what the group is about, doesn't seem like you'll put much effort into the group either. In the end, groups just take every random kid that applies thru ucp, or most likely just end up dead and sold; so an invitation is worth absolutely nothing.

Don't be surprised if nobody makes a submission to this contest. Maybe the guys selling $5 thread designs will but even then it's rare.

Anyways, good luck.

No ? now of days the website is only about money. The principles and values went down. I see why OP said free, look at the value of groups when he posted those threads and the groups now?

unfortunately the price of graphics is not based on the value of groups or whatsoever .

most forums is always been money aside from this thread being posted in marketplace XD so i don't know what principles and values you're talking about .

on topic, OP now placed a $100 prize so i think that would be good.

Invitations meant something back then, groups like FlyByNight, Null etc. actually did good stuff.

OP is a butthurt kid who just negged me for speaking truth. A dumb 12yo kid like him can't lead a bicycle gang for shit, let alone run a group.

Maybe you should provide the oldUB template.

What are the group about? It is really hard creating a userbar without knowing anything at all about the group other than the name..

Very Complicated - April 8, 2019, 8:00 am

Any information on what it should look like/color scheme, at least a theme?
