Thread: Julian Assange arrested by british police and has been moved from Ecuadorian embassy

IniGo - April 11, 2019, 4:06 am cant post links, so you'll have to find the article yourself

Code Google Dork= Julian assange arrested

Sentenced to year 1 in UK prison for avoiding arrest and facing american extradition where they have said that he will be charged for "attempt to break into a government computer" with a max charge of 5 years.

Australian prime minister has said that, while they will offer minor counsel, he is not to expect any special treatment. As long as he isn't facing a death penalty they won't interrupt

Maybe he got tired of plaintiff's?

Notorious - April 11, 2019, 4:08 am

Pretty fucked up IMO, but the UK justice system has always been that way.

This is just disappointing on so many levels.

Yes, fuckery is real and live

Filthy Frank - April 11, 2019, 8:08 am

Wasn't he supposed to spread some encryption keys if he was arrested? I believe there used to be torrents out there to encrypted stuff to which he only had the keys.

10 years ago or so he said that? The files in the archives have likely been released already anyway. Im looking forward to see what happens next, and if USA gets him because of those minor charges they went out with

We live in a sick world, the ones exposing the truth is arrested while the ones committing the crimes go free.

merkulate - April 11, 2019, 11:36 am

Let's hope someone takes over from his spot. I haven't been active on here as of recent, but when I saw this on the news, I knew I had to hop online.

Free Julian Assange, he ain't do none!

Gliese - April 11, 2019, 2:20 pm

Why does he look so old? Elon Musk looks younger than him and they are the same age

I think most of us would look old after nearly 7 years on the ecuadorian embessy. Its shocking to see him look like this regardless

BTC - April 11, 2019, 2:27 pm

This is the most fucked up thing I have seen

It is not like he was stealing information and releasing it, this sickens me that the corrupt politicians are walking freely and living happy life with their families. Absolutely disgusting world we live in

I know it has been far over a decade but lest we forget the story of David Kelly

Bluffer - April 11, 2019, 2:47 pm

Going to be interesting how Trump administration handles this.

My guess is Assange is going down big time now. Probably will "commit suicide" while in prison.

Omniscient - April 11, 2019, 2:54 pm

The USA should just make a Federal crime to "Embarrass America" because that's really his only crime. Sickens me that he was hunted this long. They should have settled this 5 years ago.

red - April 11, 2019, 2:59 pm

When's the war beginning? Soon obviously right? They're locking up people that have done literally nothing wrong and was exposing corruption.

DOG - April 11, 2019, 3:04 pm

This whole scherade is absurd and the fact that we, the people in general, allow it points towards one of our times biggest problems...

To be frank, it has always been a "crime" to expose what kind of fuckery the people in power pull on us

It most certainly does! But whoes to say that this exact time we are in, isnt the time for chaos and dispair, as with all else, you need darkness to see the light and so on and so forth.... fact is, if you like patterns, you should go take a look and see that the same show have been going on for atleast 5000 years (got the hint?). And has intensified massively over the past 30 years time. We live in a time where changes is gonna happen, but noones yet to say if its for the better or worse.

I know my opinion is probably going to be in the minority here, but Assange is about to get what is to be expected. You cannot leak classified information and expect not to have your entire life ended as you know it, whether figuratively or literally.

In terms of laws: No you cannot

In terms of justice: Fuck the laws

I don't agree because I believe if his site was called "Wiki Post News" he'd be defended by more journalists. It's like how Hack Forums doesn't actually hack anything. Wiki Leaks doesn't steal anything it simple releases it as any news organization would do. He's being railroaded. What he did by leaking CRIMINAL behavior by the CIA is actually heroic the same imho as Snowden and Manning. They continue to expose crimes of governments and corporations. IMHO they want him because of Hillary Clinton losing the election and Obama being embarrassed. The hunt for him is directed the Democrats but I know GOP also wants his head.

There was a clear reason Manning and Snowden gave Wikileaks the info to be made public. They didn't sell it to other nations as a spy or profiteer would do. These people understood the government was committing crimes and Wikileaks was the ONLY way to expose it.

Really unhappy about this BS. I just hope he doesn't serve a day in a US Prison. I fear they might actually kill him.

Everything you said it's 100% true. And even if they kill didn't he give instruction to leak more stuff in case this happen. And even if they kill him someone will take his place sooner or later.

You are 100% correct, Omni. The shit I saw that Uncle Sam was doing while I was serving turned me off so quick I didn't take that good of a look. I might've had a few important documents, but I was hoping to get more to push a more complete story rather than looking like a tin-foiled lunatic with lots of gaps and holes... If I'd had more time, I might've done been up there with Bradley Manning... But I was honestly afraid to look too deep, and I was still afraid of jail.

If Assange is going to get assassinated by the US, it is likely to be before he gets to trial. But considering the potential evidence he could bring, and then make a matter of court record, it is also somewhat likely that they could attempt to try him in a secret court, so that nothing that happens or is said can then be weighed by the public. It will be something like Kevin Mitnick all over again.

bloody hell he looks terrifying.

LanMan - April 13, 2019, 12:53 pm

Dude tried to get asylum in France but had to get extradited by pressure, OVH had to down wikileaks as well, then sweden press fake rape charge and Assange gotta hide in a Ecuadorian embassy for 7years.

He should have definitely asked for political asylum in Russia like snowden did.

I hope for him that he won't be extradited to the land of the free now.
