Thread: Proxy Selling YOUR Product || 2010 Member - 20k Posts - Ub3r

Effexion - April 15, 2019, 4:13 am

I have been around Hackforums for nine years now and in my time have built a solid reputation as a seller on the Hackforums Marketplace. Aside from my standing on the forums I have over a decade's experience in the sales industry and this shows with the quality of my online and offline customer services alike.

When you choose me to sell your product you are effectively hiring me as a support representative also and I will strive to sell your product to its full potential and do so with the highest of standards of professionalism.

What I expect:

Dependant on the price and nature of your product I will ask for a 20 - 25% cut from your sales. I will not use my PayPal as this is against Hackforums rules but I will gladly take Bitcoin payments.

Please reply or send me a private message to discuss further.
