Ombra - April 18, 2019, 5:02 pm

Let me ask it here: whenever group owner changes, Omni has to collect $250.

What about rebranding? Is it another fee to be paid in addition to transfer or is it included whenever a transfer occurs?

Secondly: rebranding includes group name/ficons/userbar change, correct?

What about leaders? If group owner is gonna nominate/demote a leader, does he just ask Omni or is there any additional fee?

Dorrance - April 18, 2019, 5:04 pm

$250 fee will be needed if re-branding in a such of changing graphics or group name & etc.

First rebrand is free. After that it costs money but not 250, not sure on the exact amount.

Rebranding includes EVERYTHING about the group, yes. Leaders are appointed at /groupcp.php

I hate when people come to these types of threads and say things like "blah blah blah is selling for cheaper". Then go talk to him. In the end of the day this is a sales thread and should be treated like one. You don't see other members in the Marketplace section going and saying things like this because it'd be sales trashing. To be this is a form of sales trashing. If you don't have a question about the group or purchase you shouldn't post.

He's made a ton of threads wishing to buy a group when he clearly doesn't have the funds. He's notorious for wasting group owner's time by claiming he has funds than always backing out. Yes I wanna buy a group then I realized maybe it's not worth it. I contacted some Owner to talk about my plan to see, what is wrong with that?

I'm not sinking anything, just saying the true. and You know it!

Stop lying, when I PM'd you and asked you directly if you're buying a group, you told me your offer and I said I was willing to sell my group and you just stopped replying. You're honestly posting in threads and trying to lower the value, making new threads/offers to leaders from time to time with lower offers each time. That's what people are trying to say, that with all that you're doing, you're contributing to one of the factors of why the group price(s) have been dropping and you're acting like you know nothing.

Why not just keep it the same? Saves you the trouble of rebranding. And you can do whatever ideas under this name and userbar anyways.

Keep it and create a powerhouse on the forum. You just need a crew now (I know someone who is selling). ?

No I mean, the userbar and name are generic and don't really hint towards any one theme. Omni would change the group description for free or penny's compared to a full rebrand. He did this for me quite a few times for a lot cheaper than a full rebrand.

And you can just go about doing whatever new direction you wanted.

Please do this and re-brand Archive.

One of the best groups ever to go.
You know there would be a TON of interest.

I still have ALL of the group graphics, literally everything you'd need to rebrand the group.
I even have screenshots of all the important group threads like stickies and our important threads.

flavoral - May 29, 2019, 3:21 pm

So who's owns the group now?
