

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: What is this? ?

SIM-2908357 - April 18, 2019, 2:51 pm

Quick gif should do all the explanation necessary as to what im experiencing:

Is this because of the new marketplace rule in which everything posted requires a contract? ?

I know the reason behind quick edit displaying [object Object] is because some JSON data is not being parsed into a javascript object. Not sure why I'm unable to full edit however.

The_Savior_One - April 18, 2019, 2:53 pm

friend this happened because u vouch begged
happened to me same thing too

SIM-2908357 - April 18, 2019, 2:56 pm

(Apr 18, 2019 02:53 PM)The_Savior_One Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) friend this happened because u vouch begged

happened to me same thing too

Vouch begged? It's an exchange for popularity -> bytes.

No vouches are required.

?rescent - April 18, 2019, 2:56 pm

Seems interesting... We'll have to wait to find out luke - April 18, 2019, 3:10 pm

The section has been closed. All threads in the Rewards and Small Favors are closed and uneditable.

int - April 18, 2019, 3:13 pm

(Apr 18, 2019 03:10 PM)luke Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The section has been closed. All threads in the Rewards and Small Favors are closed and uneditable.

this, because people kept posting popularity for bytes threads. not sure when it is reopening

Mix - April 18, 2019, 3:31 pm

They closed the favours section as everyone was abusing the wording and rules of the section. so no one can edit or post in there anymore.

SIM-2908357 - April 18, 2019, 3:32 pm

(Apr 18, 2019 03:10 PM)luke Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) The section has been closed. All threads in the Rewards and Small Favors are closed and uneditable.

This makes sense, could easily be abused by scammers.

I hope in addition, Omni disallows the ability of exchanging popularity for entry into (fake) contests in the members contest section.