Thread: [LitterPUP - A strategic, aggressive anti plagiarism utility \[SOURCE CODE\] | \[VB.NET\]](#)

internetb0y - April 18, 2019, 9:45 pm

I made LitterPUP a while ago, however I never published it or showed anyone, I built it because I thought it might be useful during school to help me with my plagiarized paragraphs, etc.

LitterPUP is a tool that can help you bypass plagiarism detectors that your work can be parsed through, such as TurnItIn, etc.

How it works? LitterPUP extracts sentences then words in the first sentence and will give you alternative words with the word selected using an API.

Enjoy, Please give feedback.

thats a nice idea can be pretty useful btw your drive link doesnt work

Aristocles - April 19, 2019, 2:58 pm

nice

also 1px white space, 1px random letter with white fontcolor, if they use OCR, your solution is the best

Or maybe, you know, just don't plagiarize other people's work. Plagiarism is really looked down upon. What's so hard about referencing your sources ?

I wanted to look at this, but it looks like the link does not work anymore or I'm doing something wrong. If anyone has this, can he reupload this?

To cure the link issue for folks great tool actually. Never had problem with paper ideas but the system they use is heavily flawed pisses me off sometimes as well..
