Thread: Looking for someone to write a short story.

Mr. Robot - April 20, 2019, 4:47 am

Looking for someone to write a short story on a concept/idea path I am working on.

Key skills -

English.

Descriptive within the bounds of a short amount of words - 500-1000 preferably.

Creative.

Open to criticism/change.

You have creative control over names/towns/environments/world names.

I will be sharing it on HF - and in turn you could offer a service to others if they enjoy the work.

>> I have written the basis for this out - you will just need to fill in areas with some dialogue and more descriptive language.

Let me do it. I get A's when I write essays and stories for college. I'm used to writing scripts and stuff like that for short films I do.

Used to write tons of stories. I can create something beautiful and unique. I am naturally a creative thinker, with a modern prose and lots of practice.

Would love to know more about this, thanks
