Looks very nice!

Appreciate a good graphics designer.

Lulz - April 23, 2019, 4:38 pm

very nice design so far, you just starting out?

Darkwin - April 24, 2019, 12:55 am

Literally took my signature -.-

@OP - looks nice ?

Doesn't look like a template, more like OP has replicated Darkwin's to make his/her own template.

Could be wrong, although it's more ethical to reference credit where due. Especially, when the design MIMICKS another...

Yes, I really love this style even though it probably will never appear on this forum again. I really liked Calibur's work, but not much of his work exists on this forum now, and it looks like he died or took a long break.

Your signature is one of the few old style designs still around this forum, so yes I used your signature as a heavy influence on the signature I did.

I never used a template to make these, other than using Darkwin's signature as a reference to do the Honest Cracking signature, they were created from previous knowledge. Of course, I'm gonna experiment to make that style a lot more different than how it was before. Other signatures you may see on the forum were made from own experience.

So it's not a template, but I do see what you mean.

Mine isn't a template, Had it designed in 2010. I have seen a couple similar ones, probably someone created a template out of my sig idk.

Either way its cool because it also reminds me of Calibur's work, He's awesome with his gfx and had a unique style.

Paid like $50 LR for it back in 2010 the OG was custom made by Calibur; then i had it re-made.

BTW i remember you its good to see you still around, You still do gfx? I remember you use to do FBN's art - i would hire you rightnow lol.
