Thread: Small things

SIM-1729678 - April 23, 2019, 5:00 am

I have no life and way too much time atm, these are small things I noticed whilst browsing the forum and reading through the Help Docs again. Please do not take this as criticism. Just here to help.

EDIT:

Quote:Please don't get me wrong, I know that there is much more to re-write and there are so many things that need an update, but my main priority here was to note down the 'major' things. This being hyperlinks and textual things that people might abuse.

I named the thread 'Small Things' because of the fact that these are small 'issues' that can be solved over time. After everything really important is fixed of course.

Forum related:

- Everything popularity related in the Extra's page is still named reputation - Example: Reps Given
- Everything popularity related in the Subforums rules page is still named reputation - Example: 'Reputation System - To find out about our reputation policies.' This means the same goes for the list on the sub forums itself.
- In the Premium and Secondary seller section, the forum rules link to an old guide from 2011 for safe trading. The Buyers Bay forum rules link to a thread from 2009, same goes for Service Offerings. Even though we have a nice and update Help Docs page on safe trading. Marketplace and Safe Trading.
- Currency Exchange, Premium Tools and Programs and Testimonials still include r00t in their forum rules.
- <https://hackforums.net/negreplog.php> is still Negative Reputation Log.
- The Hackforums Wiki is sadly still down, causing the button at the top of the website to be dead.
- On the Donate and Buy an Award page the K1NG award name has a lower letter k (k1NG).

Help Docs related:

- The colour of 'Omniscient' is still light blue in the Forum Advertising section of the Reporting Posts Help Docs.
- In the Copyright Infringement and DMCA help doc, it says you should use the contact form and select Copyright Violation, even though there is no drop down or separate button for that option on the contact page. (Besides putting it in the title yourself of course).
- In the Protecting Yourself From HF and Members help doc, there is a Report button that links to the same help doc page.
- In the Awards Help Docs, there is an old list of purchasable awards. The text that can be found above the list is sadly also no longer correct. Here is a new list (might be useful might not be, I still have way too much time):
 - Code Diamond of Hell [IMG Link] $20
 - Ace of Spades [IMG link] $25
 - Bitcoinage [IMG link] $100
 - Benefactor [IMG link] $200
 - K1NG [IMG link] $250
 - Master Donator [IMG link] $500
 - Cyber Diamond [IMG link] $1000In general the Awards page is due for an update. ?
- In the Account Profiles and Pruning page r00t is still mentioned.

- I heard from Eagle that the Vendor group is able to edit Unlimited times, this is not mentioned in the Edit History and Limits page. (Official V3ndor Group by Omniscient)
- On the Upgrading Your Account page the V3ndor group is typed out without a number. The same goes for the Vendor apply page. (Probably done on purpose)
- The Edit History and Limits page still includes 3PIC.

Addition (not 100% sure): When using the forgot password feature (basically changing your password) the trust scan will still say that the password has not been changed. Trust scan will only be triggered when a password is manually changed.

This might have been done on purpose, but you never know.

I can vouch that the above user indeed does not have a life.

Be sure to add "Meticulous attention to detail" to your resume when you look for a real job

CIA or something like this.
Impressive work well done!

I already PMed omni before on some of this stuff. However, the Help DOC. will require a lot of time to be rewritten as there's actually much more stuff than what you mentioned to be updated, but there's much more priorities right now.
