Thread: Install windows 10 - no watermark - no piracy - 100% through microsoft

?? - April 27, 2019, 5:19 pm this method lets you install windows 10 without a key, its literally just the normal install but you choose a special option. SUPER SIMPLE no watermark, 100% solid install from what i have experienced.

my desktop after using this for ~1 year

Download the windows 10 iso:

here is how u download the ISO you need from microsofts website.

<https://pureinfotech.com/download-windows-10-iso-without-media-creation-tool/>

(this iso includes all versions of win10)

install education version (education, not education N (i dont know what that is tbh)) you can do this with a usb drive by using software such as rufus, or win-to-flash (called woeflash or some shit now) when creating user account, choose "add to domain"

never add to domain

win

Also for windows server for like a free 3 months, just download server 2019 and use the evaluation license over and over.

great for vm's and servers if you dont want to pay for a windows license and they let you flash w.e OS.

if you like this method, please post to keep the thread alive. its a pretty simple method anyone could use, especially after dumping your wallet onto a pc with no windows license.

@OP

The "N" - Versions are just like the other windows versions, except of the media-features, such as Windows Media Player, Windows Media Center or the Windows DVD Maker.

Thanks for the share! :)

thanks for telling me the difference :) appreciate it.
so it seems like either one should work fine.

Thank you very much for this. My friends have complained to me to help them get rid of the watermark. Very much appreciated here.

yea fuck the watermark, haha.

i figured this out when i was in college. installed win10, we were doing an active directory lab. The iso i used had every version, and it was super nice so i saved it. asked my teacher where he grabbed the iso, he said right off microsofts website. later that night i was setting up vm's, and installed an education copy to use my extra key for a vm at home. i chose "add to domain" after skipping the key (i dont have one). didnt realize it, but like 3 months later i was thinking "wait... i never used my education license. OOOOH" lol should i post this as a tutorial somewhere aswell?

just used the evaluation version of 2019 for another vm. so nice :D
