So I posted a thread regarding me wanting to buy any sort of method to make money, and the owner of On The House Binary Signals for Forex PM'd me after calling me a time waster on discord and removing me, asking if I wanted to buy. As stated in the screenshot I couldn't because of real life issues and tight funds.. and I mean anyone who actually lives through life comes down to one point where funds are tight. And after sending that message his partner "Camf" negged me, first being neutral and we had a bunch of conversations back and forth, with him and Deal falsely accusing me of re-selling their service even tho I never bought it. And the reason they were saying that is because the user who originally posted on my thread said something about my money situation (negatively) but nothing that supports his accusation.

I went back and forth with the both of them to ask the guy on my thread to show my Sports Betting Method & Gift Card Exploit have nothing to do with his service, but just because I was selling my Sports Betting Method with Mentoring for $1000 just like his Binary Signals, apparently that means I'm selling his shit even though I've never bought his service as stated many times before in my posts.

So now my reputation is fucked because 2 salty members have gotten angry that I will not buy their service because it requires more than $300 (which is all I have), on top of that they are accusing me of doing such a stupid thing, which I haven't ever done in my life even off this forum, I don't believe in scamming cuz Karma and I've seen it with my own eyes.

EDIT: forgot to mention where he said "You're selling gift cards for $1000" I was selling my GIFT CARD EXPLOIT not gift cards. As I said he doesn't know what he's talking about.

Sorry this is so long, but this irks me that members with a rank think they are the most powerful on the forum and I've seen multiple members like this, but most are more professional.

Anyways, is there anything I can have done about this?

Hey mate check out my thread it's probably one of couple of legit ways to make money on here.

Don't get scammed by money making method sellers.

Very few of them are legit.

I recommend everyone to check out this thread. I think it is pretty obvious why we left this guy a negative reputation.

Also note that the member has recently tried to scam another member:

Thanks.

Also note that posting anything related to disc is against the rules.

I recommend everyone to check out this thread. I think it is pretty obvious why we left this guy a negative reputation. Yeah because you're falsely accusing me without proof to backup your accusation, stating I am selling this service even though I never bought it to begin with.

You rushed me for days hence why i kinda forgot about you, especially going through shit you can't relate to.. but that gives you the right to accuse me of bullshit like this because I can't purchase ur signals, and you stated I am reselling your thing because I priced my exploit/method at the same as yours? I mean can't anyone choose that number? it's not 100% yours. Anyways, you seem not to understand marketing if thats the case.

EDIT: I never wanted to scam him, we were going to literally do a contract with a Middleman and all, as I dont believe in scamming. But yeah just because he said I'm sketchy since I removed him after he wasted my time like I supposedly wasted yours. Okay, yeah nice one buddy ?

EDIT 2: His friend just negged me probably because this rat told him to. I don't care either way, but I hope staff can do something about this bullshit, I've never dealt with any of these members who negged me.. aka gang rep.

I'll wait.

With all respect, you are the one lashing out. If you were not guilty you would not be so angry. ?

I'm a nobody on this forum, and am getting ganged up by a bunch of rats and am being falsely accused of literally such stupid things that I HAVE NEVER DONE.

Anyways i'll wait for someone with actual common sense to see this.

Hopefully staff will remove these false reputations from my profile after seeing you guys are the cocky and hard headed rats thinking you can abuse your power.

Have a good day

Yeah let's wait for them to judge.

You make all this seem like it's about our status. I don't give a damn about that, users on this forum can vouch that I'd go up against more reputable members no problem.

Now the problem is that you've so far been disrespectful with comments about my mom, and called me a rat. This is just some of the things. And let me tell you that the only reason I stay professional is because it is business related and that you were previously a potential customer. Because if that wasn't the case the tone would be different.

This wouldnt have started if you literally didn't make false accusations saying I'm selling your service when not being a member just because my price and yours are identical.

Again, stop trying to back your shit up with even more stupid statements and let either a staff or someone with more than 10% of a brain judge this.

Thank you

EDIT: Another one of this kid's rat friends have once again negged me.

Nice job, shows the maturity of this entire community going to shit.

OP just equated a neg rep to being black ? ?

I quit the internet for the day.

Only because you got -3'd doesn't mean its a friend of user xy. Not everyone knows everone on here.

Edit: You think shit like this will make you better in this community?
