Thread: What's your favorite blockchain "explorer" website?

AeroBlue - April 29, 2019, 8:17 pm

I remember seeing a few really good ones (nice and clean) but I always forget them. Usually, I use blockchain.info but it's out of urgency more than anything. What do you guys use?

I use Blockchain.info strictly. I don't even think I have heard of any other ones aside from Blockchain.info

I remember seeing some smaller websites that look way cooler and have better functionality but I forgot it lol

Best explorer you will ever use.

Blockchain.info is shitty

Not a problem brother ? it is much more privacy oriented as well, and far more professionally developed than the likes of blockchain or other alternatives :D

Psychedelic. - May 2, 2019, 5:16 am

i prefer to use blockchain.info

Kill Joy - May 2, 2019, 5:24 am

Really like blockcypher.com

I mostly use block explorers for exploring smart contract functions on ethereum, so etherscan.io, and ethgasstation.info are pretty useful to me.

Is there anything for BTC that would be similar to ethgasstation?

Thanks! bitinfocharts has a ton of info! ?

I prefer blockchain.info

Maybe because I started with that.
