Thread: Game Update - #3

Xerotic - April 30, 2019, 10:54 am

Release Thread: The Game Beta

Update #1: Shop & Battery Update

Update #2: OpSec, Leaderboard, and Items Update

Today we have updated the HF Game to include the features from CrewCP into GameCP. This means that instead of visiting /crewcp.php to adjust your crew you will now visit /gamecp.php to manage your crew. Along with this we have also enhanced the mathematics behind Small Hack Jobs, thanks to Steve.

- Crew Integration

Crews have now been fully integrated into The Game. Visit the Crew page to check it out. Here you can view your crew information and (if you are a Crew Boss) manage your crew.

Crew Profile Preview (Click to View)

In the above image you can see what a crew profile looks like from the perspective of the Crew Boss. Here is a breakdown of some of the button controls:

Member & Boss Controls

- Below the userbar you have the icon that will either set or remove your crew userbar from displaying on your posts.
- To the far right of the "Vault Balance" row is a "money bag" icon that can be clicked to deposit Bytes into your crew vault.
- Directly below that is a "book" icon that can be clicked to access your crew logs.

Boss Only Controls

- At the bottom of each member "card" exist two buttons. The left hand button will remove the member from the crew.
- The right hand button will withdraw Bytes from the crew vault TO that member. Only a crew boss can manage withdrawals.

There is an extra navigation panel a little below your batter icon. Here there are 4 control buttons. The 2 on the left exist for every player. The 2 on the right exist only for a Crew Boss.

- The first button is the "PM Blast" feature where a Crew Boss can send a PM to all crew members, for a Byte fee.

PM Blast Preview (Click to View)

- The second button will bring you to your "Crew Management" page where you can update your crew name, description, and userbar (if applicable).
- This page contains a brand new crew feature: Transferring Crews. You can now transfer your crew to another member. That member must not currently be in a crew to receive ownership of a crew.

Crew Management Preview (Click to View)

- Mathematics

Steve has a background in mathematics and has been working closely with us during Game development to help ensure that progression and jobs are fair and logical. This includes an overhaul to Small Hack Jobs. Previously Small Hack Jobs had a clear choice in which was the most efficient but now we have altered it heavily so that you can explore for the best possible jobs again.

- Small Hack Jobs

We have decided to remove the captcha from Small Hack Jobs. We will be developing less intrusive methods for detecting malicious/botted activity.

In addition to this we have removed all the old jobs and populated the game with 13 new Small Hack Jobs for you to do.

Small Hack Jobs Preview (Click to View)

- Reset

To help test the effectiveness of our new math for Small Hack Jobs we have opted to reset all game players. This means your account is effectively restored back to level 0. No future resets are planned but in the event of a catastrophe it may still occur. However we intend to avoid a reset.

- Future Plans

A lot of development on HF has been focused outside of the game lately... but you should be glad to hear that the next couple of weeks will be dedicated to adding more gaming elements. You will soon have the ability to attack other networks and defend against attacks yourself.

If your game does not look like the screenshots posted in this thread then you should clear your cache or reload those two pages:

Thanks for reading the release notes for Update #3 of the HF Game.

If you have any questions, comments, or bug reports then please feel free to post them below.

Bacardi Cola Lime - April 30, 2019, 11:06 am

It's great to see the new changes. You have the full support of the community on this game!

Kosmos - April 30, 2019, 11:06 am

Lots of great changes, thanks man!

BTC - April 30, 2019, 11:10 am

Truly amazing how fast these updates have come out brother ? Well done, and your hard work is much appreciated @Xerotic, @Steve and anybody else who contributed.

Edit: now it is time to grind :D

Xerotic - April 30, 2019, 11:26 am

Just reconfigured the leveling formula so you may have noticed your level chance if you've played in the time since this thread was released.

Lavish Living - April 30, 2019, 11:29 am

Just confirming, there will be atleast one more reset before the game is complete right?

le - when bytes are integrated we should expect another reset?

SIM-403479 - April 30, 2019, 11:38 am

Thanks for the update. Great work as always!

Unexplained - April 30, 2019, 11:38 am

Just looking around the game cp for the first time and I gotta say it looks really good. I'll be diving deeper into it and checking out how it all works.

Thank you for putting in the work and effort!

iNviZ - April 30, 2019, 12:11 pm

Awesome man great work. Excited to try out the new features

Mix - April 30, 2019, 12:14 pm time to be the best! thank you for this update been waiting a while and its gonna be so worth!

DOG - April 30, 2019, 12:31 pm

? Excellent! Thank you again Xerotic! I'm so impatient to start the big fights again other crews

Edit: will we have notifications in the future when the time is up?

Omniscient - April 30, 2019, 1:10 pm

Quote:Just confirming, there will be atleast one more reset before the game is complete right?

I can't guarantee either way. Unless there is a specific problem that only a reset can fix, then I don't plan on resetting anything. We should be good for XP and the jobs.

Quote:le - when bytes are integrated we should expect another reset?

The plan for Bytes integration is to first allow you to deposit your Bytes and convert them to Game Cash. It is likely going to be a 1:1 exchange so 100 ? = $100 Game Cash. The harder issue is going to be Game Cash -> Bytes withdrawals because that cannot be 1:1. We might set that very high at like 10:1. What we don't want is to ruin the Bytes economy that's already on the site. Over time we hope to have a balance and get members to both play the game and participate in community threads.

Quote>Edit: will we have notifications in the future when the time is up?

Not with My Alerts. Realistically it's a short timer with a max of 5 mins for the hardest job. As we add the PVP and PC Hack elements and delays are longer we may have to consider a form of notification. For now it's not something we are putting onto our workflow.

Awesome, time to grind I guess.

I'll probably cry for a day if you do end up resetting but then will get over it because fuck it.

The moon landing never happened thus why it's a 9% job of finding proof. If it truly happened, it'd be a 100% job.

Looks good though, good update. Actually started playing.

Maybe eventually. We have enough Cartels. The other Crews are available. I may offer crew image to the Syndicate tier.

reBELLYus - April 30, 2019, 9:47 pm

Ah, this works out nicely. Awesome.

Thanks for the update.

Ok thanks for the response, I am currently running the numbers on how many scratch tickets I would need to purchase to get approx 1m worth. I want to resurrect my old group Null. Having a permanent group and not having to worry about obtaining more bytes for renewal is something I am taking into consideration.

Money- - May 1, 2019, 12:36 am

Are the Hacking tools bought from the store usable now? Or still remains the same until further new updates.

Dragosthethird - May 1, 2019, 4:49 am

Likely meant to be this way but if you are "The FBI is interrogating you about a cyber crime" you can't access any page of the game even other users profiles or the leader boards. In a way that makes sense in the context. You wouldn't want to look up fellow hackers while the FBI is on to you.

I don't know if this is a bug or whatnot however, As I'm sure you maybe able to see I've got a good amount of XP and it said I got a level up, however it's still saying I'm level 1? Or maybe I'm confused on something that told me I got a level up, I am so confused.

People will abuse the fact that there is no CAPTCHA and the time will be wasted - just like the original scratch offs.

I'll be back for a go when there is a method in place afterwards.

there really is no efficient way to "abuse" it atm... battery just hits 0 within an hour of use and recharges so slowly.

motley crue might make an activity requirement tbh, so none of our crew members fall behind when crew vs crew is implemented, assuming there is no reset.

If I remember correctly I'm sure Lavish posted something about it being like 12 hours or maybe 24, this was way back so not sure if it's been changed.

However I may be wrong about it being Lavish.

<3 thanks bro!

imma complete the list, I think it's a range between what you can earn as reward for XP / Cash. I am not sure about it, but other people get different rewards from me, as far as I can tell.

Not sure about the cooldown though, as nobody seems to keep track or post it publicly

How does your skills increase even?

BTC - May 2, 2019, 8:24 am

From what I can tell, it seems that the range for rewards on each job varies. The range is not the same, and changes based on each job you do.

I am going to do more testing to find out whether it increases or decreases based on the success rate, likely the success rate is not used as a factor. But worth a shot, these randomized ranges for rewards makes it a lot harder to calculate / reverse so to speak.

Well done @xerotic, @steve you guys got me triggered now

I think it would be awesome if the cooldown was also randomized with a range between X & Y amount of time. Would make it all that much harder to decide which is more worth your time, given the battery recharge rate and many other factors to take in account.

Thank you! That is exactly why it did not appear for me aswell. Disabled ad blocker and it appeared

After some more testing I have noticed that the XP and Cash earned, the random generated reward between the range that is likely set in place (or also randomly generated) is not related what so ever. You can hit high on the XP range but low on the cash range for the same job.

Very elaborate system compared to before if I must say so myself :D

Lol, if there's another reset it will be a FULL reset. No point in only resetting xp/cash/equipment and not skill levels.

And yeah, I have a feeling bytes prices may increase back to around $10/1k after they integrate them.

I guess some people are just overly paranoid. Baffles me how you suggest people to play the game, then people take the complete opposite of what you say and recompile it to mislead other members.

I guess that's one way to get to top of leaderboards, convince everyone not to play the game... But pretty immoral if you ask me :P

It's something to do. It is entertainment. It ties together the Byte economy. When you don't feel like posting/reading threads you can stay on HF and play a game with other HF members (once PvP is out). Just thinking of HF as a forum is an antiquated thought, IMO.

EDIT: We are building HF for the future and the members to come. A lot of older members get confused by the changes, unfortunately. Nostalgia prevents a lot from really enjoying changes.

The same as any gaming has value. It's entertainment. It's not a requirement to be involved in the game to enjoy HF though.

We're hoping to build this into something you can use on your mobile phone and play all day long. Something chill and fun which will provide stickiness and frequent visiting to HF. This helps our SEO.

Part of the gaming aspects will have integration with the forums. For example within a week there will be a new set of random posting awards (like the clovers). If you earn one you can turn it in for a prize.

We should have the Missions done next too. Which is the precursor to PC Hacking and final aspects will be PVP.

A lot of development is happening now. We have good momentum.

Sorry dad. This is what happens when you make an addictive game ;) Us no-lifers will play 24/7 haha

On side note the bytes integration is awesome :D Now I have reason to spend my extra coin on bytes.

My only concern is that people who are poor or just can not afford to purchase mass amounts of bytes, inevitably will drop to bottom of the leaderboards when compared to people like me who can easily drop $250 in bytes just to quench my competitive / addictive mindset

Perhaps I am ignorant to this, or missing something in which case I apologize. I am just asking out of pure curiosity as to if there will be anything to help balance the fairness of climbing leaderboards for people who do not have $ / Bytes to invest in to it. For instance I could buy up a bunch of bytes, an absurd amount that no user could gain from posting / other methods of acquiring bytes. Inevitably giving me a large advantage at the beginning especially, considering I could just buy everything in the shop

Sorry if my question / concern is ignorant, that is not my intentions I am truly just curious about this, as perhaps the top of leaderboards will not just be the players who are actively playing the most, but rather users like myself with extra coin and do not care about spending mass amounts of coin just to have some fun :D

I figure maybe I should offer up an idea of what I think may be good to balance this so-to speak, for instance if there is limited amount of bytes that can be converted in X amount of hours, that could help balance it to still give players who have no $ or bytes the motivation to play the game for the competitive aspect of climbing the leaderboards and other things like PVP mode that has been talked about being added :D

It's free to post on HF. You earn Bytes by posting here. You can also do things for other members which might earn you more Bytes.

I'm not sure there is a much advantage yet to those who have a lot of Game Cash. There isn't yet a ton of items to buy nor can you use them until we have Missions done.

If you're concerned that we're trying to build a pay-to-win or pay-to-play type game then please note we're not against those forms of gaming but the idea on HF is post-to-play and post-to-win. Sure, you can pay too which we have no problem with but those who participate are also rewarded and we'd rather have the game increase site activity.

Quote:I believe the real question here is why is the image on the Game's home screen NOT Hackerman?

What I might do is once we have more of the game developed ask members to come up with images for the game pages. I almost used the Hack Dude but decided against it for now.

Realize the game is really in its infancy when it comes to the gaming aspects. I'd say we're maybe 20% done with the overall game, possibly less. There is a LOT of stuff to add and it's going to take all year.

When you don't feel like posting/reading threads you can stay on HF and play a game with other HF members (once PvP is out). Just thinking of HF as a forum is an antiquated thought, IMO.

EDIT: We are building HF for the future and the members to come. A lot of older members get confused by the changes, unfortunately. Nostalgia prevents a lot from really enjoying changes.

Yeah, I totally agree with how nostalgia prevents people from enjoying the new changes. I think if I was to forget the memories I used to have of HF and embraced the changes, then I can totally understand how the game adds value to the forum. Now that you mention it, if this was part of the forum during my active days then it would have served as a nice little thing to do on the side.

Logic tells me that the tools might come in handy with this type of situation.

You know you keep getting these FBI is integorating you etc. Some tools can like mask your trace etc and increase chances.

I actually forgot these tools I heard its for PVP especially the OPSEC section , plus I think the tools are not usable for now.

That is always a possibility.

Or you could have to change if to avoid being attacked yourself lol

But yes, it has no actual benefit as of now as far as I can tell.

I did the battery code a couple (few?) months ago so I might revisit it to fine tune it and make it more fair and enjoyable. If I do all battery capacity/charge upgrades will be handled accordingly and nothing will be lost.

That is awesome, as it stood I had nothing else to really spend my game cash on, so I decided to just continuously upgrade my battery charge rate. I figure it would come in handy some day. It is rare that a day goes by where I do not visit the forum, so charge rate is heavily favored in comparison to extended battery life (in my situation). Although I think I will just save up my cash until your next update because lately all your updates have had something juicy / unexpected ?

To the best of my knowledge, there is no usage of the tools yet. The features are being added in the coming weeks / months. I do not have a lot of information on this, and perhaps somebody such as Xerotic would be able to give you a better answer.

Although, they will all most definitely have a usage coming in to the new updates. Currently as it stands I am unsure what the difference is between white hat, or black hat. Perhaps this may come in to play in the PVP when it's added. I am not sure about any of this, and just my own theories.

We hoped to get the new update on HF before the weekend but it didn't happen as we continued to add features to it.

But I think Monday or Tuesday it should be coming and it's a huge update. Those with Beta accounts at Knotbb.com can play it. We've added the Missions and are now using the OpSec parameters in calculating success changes for Missions. Shop will get a few more items too.

Missions are going to be the precursor to PVP and other gaming elements.

So I've been tracking the leveling so far as I progress and have figured out at what point you reach what level.

My data so far:

First Level Up Between 98-137xp (100?)

Second Level Up Between 393-406xp (400?)

Third Level Up Between 888-927xp (900?)

Fourth Level Up Between 1589-1629xp (1600?)

Fifth Level Up Between 2493-2505xp (2500?)

Sixth Level Up Between 3563-3602xp (3600?)

Keeping all of that in mind and taking into account what XP amount the level-ups appear to have been at, you can see that they go by odd numbers (multiplied by 100).

The differences in XP for the first six levels have been 100, 300, 500, 700, 900, and 1100.

Following the same trend:

Seventh Level Up at 4900xp

Eighth Level Up at 6400xp

Ninth Level Up at 8100xp

Tenth Level Up at 10000xp

Compare these numbers to those on the leaderboards at levels 7 & 8 and this still holds up at the moment.

Who else pumped for this new update? ? I am hella excited!

Game - May 12, 2019, 3:46 pm

I'm looking forward to the next update. I think I may start grinding again soon after a short break.

Looking forward to some other features, thanks for the hard work guys!

Kind regards,

Sweet. Have you been keeping track of job xp and what jobs level up your skills and for how much?

I've been keeping track of job XP just about as much as Mr. Robot has in his thread here:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5965558>

But in contrast to their theory of XP/Cash being given based on battery percentage (higher giving more, lower giving less), I would actually disagree with that.

XP/Cash seems to be granted between some sort of high/low range, and I have gotten both high-end and low-end results interchangeably at various different battery charges.

Didn't even think about tracking skills until today, but will definitely keep an eye on them from here on out (though I primarily hit the 37% task repeatedly lol).

The theory was actually that the factor used to pseudo-randomize the ranges for the reward is the battery percentage specifically. Of course not proven yet, but just to let you know, that was not the theory. It did not mean higher giving more, lower giving less. . Not at all, it's all randomized, and what factor determines this range is yet to be discovered.

That would be some disrespect to the mathematicians behind all this (Steve) & possibly others?. It would just simply be too simple to be frank. I can vouch that the mathematics and algorithms used for this system was extremely well made and there was a lot of thought put in to it.

I am still charting an excessive amount of data, and nearly completed my chart for ranges of all the jobs below 44% (to the best of my knowledge)

Yeah I think he put like 100k+ bytes in the game. Correct me if I am wrong, Kill Joy but to the best of my knowledge he put a shit load of bytes in the game and has an extremely high charge rate. I assume he has the highest charge rate as it stands.

Oh, by no means did I mean to make it sound like the formula was something that simplistic.

Just not being a mathematician myself (and only having access to what was actually said in the thread), I had wrongly assumed that was the extent of what they meant.

On a side note, if you ever need anything regarding the game (tracking data or anything else), I would be happy to assist!

No worries, I didn't think you were thinking any of that either :) Some people believe it's easy to bot. I have had people message me accusing me of botting The Game. These same type of people claim it's easy to bot, and apparently know everything about it. Yet to see any of them at top of the leaderboards ?

That is great to hear! Thank you very much, any data you collect about skill rewards, XP and cash rewards, for all the different stages will help greatly. I am also keeping track of battery level and XP level for each reward. Might be a bit overboard but you never know if it might come in handy.

Adding battery capacity adds 5.

Adding battery charge reduces time till full charge by 10 minutes I think. Not sure if adding capacity will increase charge time.

Im High - May 12, 2019, 8:15 pm

I believe the charge rate decreases the rate of a full charge by 8 minutes.

At least that's what I've seen.

I've only upgraded my charge rate three times so I don't really have too much data on that one.

It depends on the level of upgrade. It will change based on the amount, for example the first couple will only upgrade by 5. My latest upgrade made a difference of closer to 10 minutes I believe. 8 minutes seems realistic.

But yes, Lavish is right, as it stands it makes relatively a small difference. Xerotic has given a vote of confidence that he is updating this and making it more worth while ?
