These stickers only tell me people to avoid. These stickers are the equivalent of people who put performance brand stickers on every surface area of their car.

Your laptop is funny it makes me think of a scenario where cops are investigating a "Hacker" and storm his house only to see his laptop with all those stickers on it, making it blatantly apparent the guy is up to no good.

Only sticker I have on one of my laptops is on my webcam.

Never seen someone having that much stickers on his laptop looks odd.

My old laptop had an assortment of stickers. Unfortunately, the motherboard died a couple years ago and I wound up tossing it.

I usually order the combo (valhalla and deathwish) and keep the deathwish at work and valhalla at home. its the best coffee ever. i am a huge deathwish nut. i have all their mugs, i have the mystery boxes (which they dont do anymore), stickers, patches, lol they sell it at walmart, or so im told, but i still order it online.

Kind of off topic, but I love how this post was reported for posting etiquette LOL.

@realsunjester report accurately or do not report. It's not that hard.

off-topic == poor posting etiquette bad trolling == poor posting etiquette seems legit to me.

i guess since everyone wants to be off topic, meh, i'll close it.
