Thread: Premium Seller's Section is Littered with Get Rich Quick Methods

As the title states, that section is starting to get overloaded with all these get rich quick methods; mostly useless junk to scam people on here. Why aren't they moved over to the money section under Monetizing Techniques?

This has already been suggested 2943902509903509209 times and denied each time.

also you can't move them to MT because it's not the marketplace lol.

My mistake if they have suggested this a lot, I did a quick look at the recent posts and I didn't see anything.

And there seems to be similar threads for selling purposes on that section as well. So it just seems kinda weird. I figured that's why that section was made for anyways because these threads were stockpiling everywhere.

Premium Sellers Section is more of a general market for upgraded users.

There are more specific places to sell software, accounts, game items, etc..
