Hi,

What websites do you visit daily. Except for the obvious ones. (XXX, Hackforums, Google).

For me it'll have to be

Quora (For reading questions/answers while shitting)

Netflix (For wasting my time all day)

Reddit (To keep myself updated on shit)

Stackoverflow (To let people fix my bugs for me)

That's about it.

Netflix

Gmail

Google

How dare you make HF not count!

I visit stackoverflow but not on a daily basis ,mostly if I need some reference.Mostly I'm wandering around on various sites when I'm looking some reference I rarely stay on a website which I will permanently visit on a daily basis like this one!

Leimone - May 3, 2019, 12:23 pm

Reddit, twitter & HF every now and then debian - May 3, 2019, 12:29 pm

Coinmarketcap to check the markets
Reddit to check completely unbiased news about the markets (sarcasm)

Another user here on the forum (I believe Lavish) referred me to this open market which does not have fake volume like coinmarketcap

Check it out! <https://openmarketcap.com/>

Oh hell yeah, thanks! I'd rep you if I could. A while back I looked all over the internet for a site like this and eventually gave up and continued using coinmarketcap.

Obviously HackForums, some social media pages like Instagram and Facebook. Then there's YouTube and some blogs like MarketingDive, Cnet, and others.

Juffar - May 3, 2019, 4:37 pm

Except for HF it's Youtube, Protonmail, Netflix and the admin panels of my projects.

google.

Youtube.

hackforums.

Steam.

Gmail.

Ebay.

Amazon.

There is probably more but im not going to tell you my history.

Tyler? - May 3, 2019, 5:58 pm

Really just Reddit and Facebook since I'm mostly mobile. I usually check in to my usual places when I get on my PC.
