Check your internet connection.

You need to enable your internet connection because for some reason this crypter downloads the runPE from this URL <http://www.razorcrypter.com/rapidtables.txt>

If you don't then the stub will crash because there is no error handler.

edit: yeah I forget to say it's risky to use this crypter. It may act as a downloader at any moment. (no offense to OP)

I wanted to keep the stub file small in size.

Is there still a use of Imminent Monitor?

I don't want to work with a rat that bad. So I'm not going to fix this.

The runpe binary is about 22kb so it's small already no need to download it.

Due to a little detection rate

What do you mean by working only in extreme condition? i have tried various internet connections, still cannot build any file.
