Thread: Given one chance to save a family member who would you save?

Skeetz - May 8, 2019, 11:23 pm

You have one cure to the virus every member of your immediate family has.

who do you save?

You can only save one, please explain who & why.

Edit: You are not infected. only your immediate family.

The AI - May 8, 2019, 11:25 pm

Am I also considered as a family member?

I'd save my sister. She's a toddler and has more life ahead of her than the rest of us.

Let the young live on, I understand your choice my man.

Psychedelic. - May 9, 2019, 3:24 am

I would choose my youngest sibling, since they havent lived as long as me.

BTC - May 9, 2019, 3:25 am

I would choose the youngest, or somebody who has longer life expectancy. They have higher chances of living long enough to honor our family's name and make sure the deaths are not in vain.

My kids. Every family member outside of my own house can fuck right off lol.

This is extremely hard, I'm struggling to actually draw a conclusion.

I'd say my Brother, or my Sister...

Nah my boy Zeus (Cat)

I'd save my wife. Then I'd keep reminding her about how I saved her, for the rest of her life.

I would always save my daughter. And then my girlfriend. If I could offer my own life to save them I'd do it without a single doubt.

Ah that's actually kinda cute man

OLOY - May 9, 2019, 4:24 am

I'd save my mother, any time.

Maskin - May 9, 2019, 5:23 am

This is a hard decision... but probably my mom, because I feel that she's done so much for me when I was still living at my parents. We really can't thank our moms enough (exception for really bad moms).

Celibate - May 9, 2019, 5:27 am

Probably my dad but who knows I might keep it for myself if I ever needed it

Let's be honest if you get bit once and cured you'll probably get bit twice and be a waste of viable resources

Glided - May 9, 2019, 7:10 am

For sure my baby sister, she's 4.

Extremely smart and talented, I've got an absurd amount of love towards all of my family, but she's only been here for 4 years. She's got a lot of life ahead of her.

Urikahopi1 - May 9, 2019, 12:33 pm

My brother he still young I

Polymath - May 9, 2019, 12:37 pm

Interesting question. It will have to be my wife of course

itcorp - May 9, 2019, 12:50 pm

This is my understanding,if I have only one cure for the virus and if I'm not infected with this virus I would try to save all the members.Because if I'm not infected,so I must be immune to this virus and the key is in me.Therefore, the cure I would divided into equal parts and I will give them all the equal part of cure dose, what will give me time to make more cure from my body. :P

Febreze - May 9, 2019, 6:12 pm

I would use it on whoever paid me the most,

Game - May 10, 2019, 6:21 am

Always gotta cure the youngest. (My brother, he's 5).

If I was not infected due to being immune, I would salvage more cures or symptom suppressors using my blood.

Hopefully save them all in the end.

?ystem - May 10, 2019, 2:37 pm

Are we talking immediate blood-related family or are we including those who're in via marriage? Either way I would certainly pick my mother to be the one who's saved and I know everyone else in my immediate family would do the same. She's everything to my family circle.

gore - May 10, 2019, 6:50 pm

Hard tie between my mom and my brother. Probably my mom though, even though she'd tell me to pick my brother.

Mix - May 10, 2019, 7:41 pm

I think it would have to be my mother as she brought me into this world and well I can't just let her leave it. This sounds soft. Lmao.
