Banter. - May 12, 2019, 10:41 am

Just to be clear i may or may not write a more in depth guide based mostly on Traffic and methods & overall tip and advice, but for now i just want to throw some stuff out there for the countless threads i see in this section of people asking the same questions day in day out.

as most of you all know snapchat has to be the biggest platform to be Ewhoring on right now & i see countless people asking how do you send live pictures and video.

If you cant be bothered to spend on $29.99 on a very good snap service and just want to use the Old sticker method then it dosent say alot about your success with e whoring, $29.99 is a very small price to pay for a service that is stable and very useful overall for selling considering you can make that $29.99 back in one single sale i just dont see how this is not a must for most people within this section.

i do understand people use other methods etc but i see so many people asking how do you send live snaps, simple check my Signature out, if you cant invest $29.99 that you can remake within minutes of having the app then you are not going to do very well in ewhoring, yes you can make money without having this app but i can say having this service and the ability to send live videos and snaps instantly you will increase your income alot.

Traffic

Traffic will always be your make or break in e-whoring and i see so many people just using the typical Add me type websites which are beyond saturated with ewhores now adays and most of of traffic from these sources will lead to alot of wasted time on people who will never buy. Be creative with traffic searches there is still alot of untouched sources, the issue is people dont source good traffic they want the easy option and the quick option and dont want to Spend that 10 minutes of SEing a customer.

Top tip stop searching Add me snapchat bullshit on google use your heads search for stuff other than snapchat.

Some of my previous biggest sales came from traffic i sourced that i know no one here has used, apart from one guy who i sold a list of sources to who recently Pm'd me showing me he made 10k over the past 6 months spending a hour or 2 a day focusing on sales. i know there are some very smart people within this section so this defiantly dose not apply to everyone in here but traffic is KEY! once you have them lured in then your SE part kicks in.

during my time in this section i have helped alot of members and helped them get better with there SE skills and some of the stuff i have seen on how people talk to customers no wonder why some of you close zero sales. Ewhore SE is easy the guy wants one thing to Fap so right away you're in control of the situation take advantage of the situation and dont come across like a dam robot to him be human and engage with your customers the more you convince them and win them over the better chance of you closing a sale with them. i could write a 20 page thread on SE skills maybe i will if i write my full guide.

i will respond to people who have question within this thread.

Cool guide bro!

It's always a pleasure when i see someone helping in this section instead of complaining,lying etc...

Good luck!

Thank you, i myself have alot of knowledge just like a select few others here but i have not been as active within the section because every time i seem to help people i get zero gratitude regardless i have helped many people via PM's who reach out to me. this section just needs a little more structure i feel like its all over the place at times from all the random questions. Most issues people have within this section can be solved by using the search button but hey people are new and dont necessarily take the time to explore all of hack forums.

i have wrote a few guides in the past which received good feedback, i might write a new up to date thread mainly being focused on traffic as thats the issue 80% of people have within this section. Traffic is simple once you know what to look for and where to advertise yourself.

if this was a advertisement i would go into greater details of the app's working, i am simply commenting on the threads i have been seeing over the past few weeks. Will i vouch for his app ?
Yes ofcourse i will its the longest running successful app going since Snap++ died. yet i see countless threads of people asking how to send live snaps etc think again before you comment some stupid shit on my thread, do your reading look back throw the past weeks history of this section there is plenty of examples to pick from.

sure some people run Modded kiks and other tools i am simply suggesting the best all rounder that dose the job the best, i have still have several accounts with the app itself and not once have i ever had issue. its not my fault people are lazy as fuck the dont want to spend a small amount of money to get a service that can make them thousands, but yet they come into this section and make threads begging for some solution to sending live snaps...

Great app's, work perfect
you can make thousands from them, its a easy choice in my eyes.

Closing due to the some salty little bitch.
