

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: How do you add thumbnails on homepage?

Kale - May 13, 2019, 2:15 pm

I purchased a theme called sitebox on theme junkie and im trying to add thumbnail images based on different categories on the main home screen of my website like its shows in the demo (image below) but i dont know how to do this. I would be very appreciated if someone can help me with this issue.

<https://imgur.com/a/YiTp8zV>

paradisiac - May 14, 2019, 1:53 am

Hi Kale,

You should be able to do this by adding the carousel or such gallery with posts (and not images only). You'll be able to select specific categories to show, or posts. For every category or post, you can set a featured image which will show in places like the one you're setting.

Kale - May 14, 2019, 7:06 am

(May 14, 2019 01:53 AM)VeloXVPN e.U. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Hi Kale,

You should be able to do this by adding the carousel or such gallery with posts (and not images only). You'll be able to select specific categories to show, or posts. For every category or post, you can set a featured image which will show in places like the one you're setting.

So i should make posts first before adding the carousel/gallery?

paradisiac - May 14, 2019, 11:03 am

Exactly, you can edit the taxonomy and add posts from specific category. But the post must exist, of course. Are you using any page builder?

Kale - May 14, 2019, 11:13 am

(May 14, 2019 11:03 AM)VeloXVPN e.U. Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Exactly, you can edit the taxonomy and add posts from specific category. But the post must exist, of course. Are you using any page builder? I've installed the Elementor plugin but i havent actually used it yet.

paradisiac - May 16, 2019, 1:11 am

(May 14, 2019 11:13 AM)Kale Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I've installed the Elementor plugin but i havent actually used it yet.

Elementor is a pretty good plugin for designing par 'par excellence' websites, and web shops! Let me know if you want the Pro plugin, I can hook you up with it.