Okay reading your posts actually hurts my brain, please tell me you'll improve your English one day.

I believe this answers your question.

Nice community alert, too bad the majority of HF will never stop buying eBooks.

Vitani - May 17, 2019, 1:32 am

Just to be clear, as far as I can see you did not purchase any of his products. You also did not provide a single shred of evidence for any of the claims you made in the OP of this thread.

You are of course free to make a community alert on another member, provided that you can actually alert members to something other then "his products are a scam" with no evidence or anything.
