How does having more views on Craigslist boost sales?

I get something like eBay, but not really for Craigslist. Could you please expound a bit on it?

Simply put, you will need to add some sort of HTML Hit Counter to your post.

<http://www.freecraigslistcounter.com/> (Or something similar)

Then, with my bot, it will view the AD and increase the counter (and gives an incentive to the viewer that the item is popular)

A bit different than eBay, but it works.

Thanks.

Makes sense! Thanks for explaining. I was having a difficult time trying to figure out who and what would even notice for Craigslist.

You're welcome! Of course CL isn't used by the younger youth these days, but eBay and so on are much more popular.

Nope, it puts it higher almost immediately, and the reason being, my bot uses accounts to browse said item, same with the watches. So eBay sees it as a real user interacting with the post. ?

As of now, only views are supported for Grailed. However, we're working on a "like bot" for such services. The problem we have as of now, is generating accounts on Grailed is an issue, but we're working on something. ?

It gets bumped up in terms of SEO, but not on site.

You may bump your listings every 7 days or price drop them 10% to receive a bump on the platform.

I am interested for ebay.

Will this make sense for used items to help bump my auctions higher?

Reason asking I put my used stuff up and I don't get those great bids. Like once I out up my Cartier Eye Wear in mint condition and I get $150 for my item and I see other users getting $500 for the same used eye wear, me using the same wording and description and mine in better condition that there's.

Stanley - January 8, 2020, 1:33 pm

I'm Stanley HF's helper bot. This OP (original poster) of this thread wants everyone to see this page and has elected to bump it to the top of the showthread listing. Since HF doesn't want a ton of LQP

(Low Quality Posts) this is the best method of bumping your content. There is a small ?yte fee for each bump. Any OP can bump any of their threads on HF from the linked icon on the top of their first post.

If you haven't already read the first post of this thread we encourage you to do so.

Thanks,
Stanley
