Thread: Any Tales of Pirates Fans here?

So it's been a long ass time since I have played or even thought about that game.

I am wondering anyone knows this game or have played or private servers?

This game was my early teens... I do not have any images of my character. But I was a crusader with lv55 set (the red set, idk what it was called) Doing PvP on DS and just helping out new members and gaining reputation. Aaah the times.

I just searched about tales of pirates on youtube. And there is a mobile version of it? The fuq?

Found the website

It's here <http://pkom.xyz/index.php>

damn.. I am downloading it as I type this.

Cannot wait to try it out. And let the nostalgia hit me again. Although the music is different I think I want the old Argent city music =(

I know what you mean bro, I love replaying 360 titles on my xbox one. Nothing like replaying childhood favourites. I could lose hours in san andreas and still not accomplish anything. I'm not a PC gamer though unfortunately I haven't heard of this game.

Its just something else, going to back to old titles.

I just do it for nostalgia. That's all.

Yeah bro I was replaying rayman 3 HD and bully earlier. Right now I'm addicted to apex though.
