Thread: Genuinely educational tech-focused YT channels?

Lante - May 28, 2019, 1:45 pm

I'm looking for more educational content creators who focus on technology and/or compsci, and don't mind a boring voice or speaker, it's the content that matters for me.

A few examples of what I'm looking for, sorted from best to least in terms for what I am currently looking for to expand the list:

- Computerphile
- Coreteks
- Louis Rossman
- Strange Parts
- Linus Tech Tips
- JayZTwoCents
- Gamers Nexus

If you guys want to discuss your opinions on those, eh, fine, but that's not what I'm asking for ;)

ThioJoe. This guy has a lot of educational videos, you may remember him years ago making joke videos but he doesn't do that anymore.

That's not a bad one, added to my subscription list. Thank you.
