Thread: eWhoring gains

Sportsbetting - May 30, 2019, 8:54 pm

I've made a tonne of money ewhoring ever since I began almost 5 years ago. I'd like to think I'm an expert and have done pretty well for myself. Learning how to manipulate and exploit men has become more so a hobby now since it's always the same process. They all want the same thing.

In no way is this me trying to brag about how better I am then most, I've taught literally hundreds of people methods and ways of extracting those who will pay and making them pay consistently. I will happily answer questions through the thread or PM's, but I will not give my methods out.

If you guys don't believe me and want more proof just let me know :)

I see you haven't gotten any replies so I suppose I'll be the first. Starting off, congrats! eWhoring for 5 years even on and off is an accomplishment within itself. Good job on the earnings as well, I see you're probably averaging $200+ a day so that is already great. If I may ask, any plans to eventually stop; Or maybe even invest what you've made into something that you can grow and expand? Just an idea, as I doubt you'd like to eWhore full time for the rest of your life haha, cheers!

When I ewhore...

"Balance: $50" for months

I appreciate the response. Thank you for the extremely kind words! Yeah plans to stop are coming into motion slowly but surely. I've got crypto holdings so in terms of investing I think I have that covered (although, can never be sure whatsoever with crypto), but I like to try to play it smart. A couple real life ventures I'm trying to tackle to create a couple more income streams but other than that I will continue until I no longer need it.

I know this is cliché but it's about persistence my man. Use that $50 on promos and shoutouts, the more exposed your account is the more money you're gonna be making.
