Paid the $60 PayPal for the gold and seller stopped responding. Super sad people still scam for messily amounts lmaoo I guess he needed it after his forum project fell through.

Will be opening a paypal dispute shortly when I wake up later today.

Proof that's his discord can also be found on his other disputes he opened himself, and by the fact he accepted the contract on-site.

Just make a call to PayPal. I believe your PayPal is fn professional and business verified, you'll get the money refunded in no time.

Tried, wasn't able to since it was family/friends and it was authorized. I guess that's how it should be.

To add insult to injury this moron adds a "boo" for me on our contract even though I did nothing but go first to him LOL

I would say hopefully he gets banned but then we're going to have to watch out for a new profile
