No notification is given for the reason my thread has been deleted. This is so lame lol, I didn't write anything towards the rules. Dafuk.

And now some dumbass gives me a negative reputation point as I would care, lmao.

You will soon most likely see how bad of an idea this thread was to make

I don't see why it as junked either. Ask Eagle95 because he junked it.

You reported your own thread with a reason "delete". Now you complain why it's deleted and you AGAIN reported this thread as "delete".

I'm not really sure what you want.

Sorry, I didn't remember that as it was done upon creating. When I received a reply notification, I wanted to know if someone helped in my situation. Thank you for answering and my apologies if I caused any trouble. I don't really understand why everyone here is acting like a real jerk.

This thread can be also deleted or locked.

When we junk a thread, it might get portrayed as someone (I, in this case) replied to your thread due to MyAlerts plugin.

All good man.
