Thread: A tech MULTI-BILLIONAIRE replied to my dm...

xiovv - June 6, 2019, 7:55 am

Tldr im coding something with a friend of mine for over a year now. I dm'd a software company owner on instagram a very short message about what we are doing. I wasnt expecting anything to happen. You know, verified celebrities on instagram especially that wealthy get thousands of DMs a day - but he bothered to read And reply to mine. He replied to my message within 6 hours giving me his email to send him all the details. Not a millionaire, not a multimillionaire, not a billionaire - but a multibillionaire replied to my private message...

Can not say who the person is and what i am making for privacy reasons.

Can someone help me not to mess this up?

BlackShadow - June 6, 2019, 7:57 am

Really nice

I remember when a bilionaire owning a car collection of like 50M + answered me Felt good :P

null_sa - June 6, 2019, 7:58 am

he like what you have msged him , so keep it same

Dotexe - June 6, 2019, 7:58 am

Why does your tldr consists of 539 characters ?

123 - June 6, 2019, 8:01 am

The only guy who you must consult with. I have seen his work and he does some amazing work. Maybe he could give you some valuable suggestion.

He is the guy . Mr. Robot

I can rub your head for good luck. Nice job OP. Wish you the best.

Austin - June 6, 2019, 8:21 am

Hey, that billionaire was me. Glad to see how excited you are.

That guy is on Twitter all day it seems.
if you google notch you will see that he is worth 1.6 billion, meaning he has 1 billion and 600 million dollars. and i clearly stated Not a billionaire replied to me, but a multibillionaire

NetFlax - June 6, 2019, 1:21 pm nice fake story. post proof or dont post at all as anyone can type up what u did with no proof to op.

your not any more special then the pimple i squeezed on my left ass check this morning.

Shelob - June 6, 2019, 1:28 pm

Don't miss the opportunity if there is any, don't settle for less than you want and comfortable with.

You already fucked up by posting here. Plus with no proof I have trouble believing this the part of not posting proof is because of privacy reasons, im not gonna beg anyone to believe me, believe what you want to believe

Same thing I was told about my house arrest and monitoring. Show proof or it's simply not true, but have a good day either way unironically this is accurate

Smexy - June 6, 2019, 2:38 pm

all celebs got someone else to manage their social media.
girls get catfished like that a lot...

Traum - June 6, 2019, 2:39 pm

I don't see how a multi-billionaire is supposed to be any better than any other human. Just talk to him like any other person.

Blogger - June 6, 2019, 3:41 pm

What are you messaging people for? Investing? I'm curious to see how this is going to turn out. Any updates?

If it turned out they turned over your email to a team of software engineers to steal your idea... that would suck.

This is what happened op.

Gary Clark Jr. - June 6, 2019, 6:40 pm

If it's just someone who just runs a popular instagram (aka a lot of followers) then this means nothing

yes investing, i mentioned if he would like to be the investor of this project and have the equity. 4 days later, still waiting for the reply thats also what i thought. but i purposely showed him that my app is already published on the google play store so there is no way for them to steal it unless they change the naming, themes and everything else into something different

Ah. Sorry to hear, man. Hopefully he'll respond to you, either way.

Aznar - June 7, 2019, 5:34 pm

That's honestly amazing man, you must be on cloud 9 right now.

Be sure of yourself, no one gets to where that man is without having a clear and concise vision for his future. Come off as confident, not cocky - and have a good fucking road map. You may get somewhere.

xiovv - June 13, 2019, 12:34 pm

UPDATE:

since I can not edit my original thread. I sent him all the files and details about the project on June 3 2019. He couldnt give a fuck to answer to my instagram or email for 7 days. On June 10 2019 I asked him on instagram if he has checked the email etc etc, wrote everything nicely to him, was completely polite etc because i have not received any form of feedback from him on the email or instagram.

He left me on seen.

Keep working on your project and don't rely on other people but yourself. You're looking for a shortcut, but sometimes you gotta make that shortcut yourself. Good luck!
