Thread: Disable purple button on mobile view

Takehito Morokuzu - June 8, 2019, 2:59 pm

I've only recently noticed this, maybe it got added today but now I see a purple button that scrolls to the first post on each thread. I find it irritating while browsing, is there an option to disable it?

It's always been there. We just changed the icon from double right arrows to that new one.

I think it looks a lot better, it invites me to actually click it to directly go to the first unread post, very small but very nice change.

And it looks modern aswell, fits the theme tho.

The icon used makes more sense aswell then the arrows.

Yeah it looks better, I didn't even knew about this feature before ???

And to OP, give it few days or weeks you will get used to it.

Thank you for this. It makes things much clearer. I especially appreciate it after my debacle earlier haha

It's very distracting and irritating IMO, is there a way to change it back?
