Thread: Calling Server Side function from Client Side Script?

Trinity - June 9, 2019, 3:49 am

I have a client side script working at my end, anyway to call something form the server side?

let me explain a bit:

i have manage to make my client work like a SuperUsers's client, altho it isent server side...

so anyway i can pass my Script to the server or even replace(temporarily) it whit my modifications?

any help would be appreciated.

Regards.

EDIT: either that or spoof, a superusers UserID... its constant, but i dont know how to do this...

More information about this its needed to give you a right answer. But what can I say right now its there will be some verification on the server-side about your client data and will not work.
