7. No adult images, adult links, or adult account trading.

That site rule now says...

7. No adult images or links to adult websites.

Because we have a new Marketplace forum.

Adult Zone Accounts

You must be Ub3r or Vendor to create threads there.

As an added bonus I have set Paid Stickies to $10 per week which I suspect might not last long.

I'm trying to ease up on some of our restrictions and rules. I'll be reviewing policies carefully.

Enjoy and thanks.

Nice addition to the marketplace. This will for sure help a lot of NFA sellers!

Vibe - June 11, 2019, 5:34 pm

Wonder what other rules you'll ease up on. Loving the changes recently.

Mom - June 11, 2019, 5:34 pm

Good shit Omni, that's awesome that you're easing up on some rules.

Cryptic™ - June 11, 2019, 5:36 pm

Many account sellers have been selling them on their own sites directly anyways... but good to see restrictions being lifted.

? New things are arriving on HF

int - June 11, 2019, 5:38 pm

not bad, although wouldnt this lead to an influx of cracked accounts being sold here?

Almost all of the non-free accounts that have been tossed around here have been cracked accounts.

Now that I don't live with my parents they can't stop me from visiting the adult zone.

CRT - June 11, 2019, 7:25 pm

A different avenue now available to the consumers of HF. A good addition which will be welcomed by many I'm sure. ?

It's not something that's easily distinguishable per se. I understand where you're coming from with this though...

I like the section but I would never pay for porn

You're in my house now son, and under my watch you aren't going to be visiting any 'adult zones'.

I am a NFA seller in NFA section, I was wondering since now trading Adult content account is allowed, can I make the adult accounts public on my Shoppy site? I would be creating separate thread to advertise them in Adult Section however, I also have a NFA thread in NFA section that links to same Shoppy site, so just making sure I am not breaking any rules here. I wouldn't be advertising it on the NFA Section but the Shoppy link will remain same.

Is that alright or I have to keep adult accounts private?

Hopsin - June 12, 2019, 12:16 pm

I like the recent new lifting you've been doing lately. Appreciated.

Yeah, it's okay but any advertising of adult accounts should be in this section.

It would be kinda pain in the ass logging on and off on both to take care of queries etc.

Sixen+ - June 12, 2019, 1:09 pm

Now I know where to find my brazzers accounts.

Bluffer - June 12, 2019, 1:32 pm

Only issue with this that I could foresee is cam sites where users buy tokens with credit card and send cam models money. There are people that sell those accounts and it's very similar to blatant fraud, closest comparison I would use is selling Dominos accounts and a lot of the time credit card is saved on the account. There's not much use to the account other than literally stealing other people's money to send to cam models.

Might be worthy of banning selling of web cam accounts (sites like Chaturbate) from being sold here.

Steve - June 12, 2019, 7:12 pm

Does the $1 minimum for NFA apply to these as well?

?rescent - June 12, 2019, 7:44 pm

Should be interesting. Have fun porn lovers

Happeh - June 12, 2019, 9:26 pm

Nice, now HF can see all my kinks.

Traum - June 13, 2019, 6:35 am

Thanks for the changes, this should bring different kinds of new people to the market section!

May I add that there are 3 "c" in accounts? You might want to change that.
