Thread: Contract dispute from a banned member?

I recently got scammed by a known multi/scammer but before he was banned he opened a false dispute. What am I supposed to do now? He bought my method and charged back then continued to sell it on here and simply made a dispute because I exposed him for scamming/selling my method.

Good question, things like this could really fuck up your trading reputation. Curious to see what will happen.

That's really sad to see things like that, furthermore when you have on one hand a 2 days account and on the other hand a guy from 2008.

But we have to keep in our mind that fields like hacking can bring good or bad people ...

Hope a good end for you ?

I wouldn't worry about it too much, it shouldn't affect future trades/contracts
