Thread: Tweak the dark text editor

Hello.

I very much appreciate the thought that went into making the text editor dark, but the background color needs to be changed.

Current: (#333)

My recommendation: (#272727)

What bugs me is that the current color is the exact same as the parent container's, which does for a little strange look imo. ?

I would prefer to change the container color for this area. It is the same color as the main background because many people prefer using the WYSIWYG mode (the far right button toggles this). When it is the same color as HF background then you can easily see exactly how the content will appear in a post.
