Thread: Stupidest customer you ever had?

Roberto Scorpius Malfoy - June 23, 2019, 5:55 pm

I am bored so I decided to make a thread to hear what you guys have heard during your work time from a customer which you consider as something stupid.

I am gonna start with a customer I had many years ago when I used to work in the customer support on a betting site, the customer created an account and asked for a free bonus because apparently, he thought he was eligible for a free bonus because he saw a promotion that we offer a free bonus but that was not true since the promotion was on a third party website which was an affiliate (they make false advertisement to get ppl to register through their link) Yes the customer got mad and wanted to report us to the gambling commission because we are doing false advertisement...

I was selling these sneakers on craigslist a while back and the dude who said he lived in my area wanted me to ship me the sneakers to him and he would PayPal me the money. He kept begging me for like an hour. Never sold em to him.

I worked at a restaurant that was always short on staff, so I was consistently on my toes. On this particular day, Saturday, one of the busiest days of the week. I couldn't make it to each table in a timely fashion and this hoe kept yelling at me to move faster like she was my boss...

And you my friend, clearly is still very pissed for being yelled at lol.

It was hot and I was working my ass off haha.

I'm over it but I just thought it was funny.

A fun way to kill a sale right there.
