Thread: New MoTM Automation

Omniscient - July 1, 2019, 3:34 pm

We have decided to automate the MoTM. It is now based on the months most Popular member (Popularity points).

The winner will be granted the award on the first of each month. You cannot win it twice. Winner will get a PM notification and also a thread will be created by Help Bot.

First winner thread:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5985437>

I suggest members grant Popularity to new members that contribute great content to the site and help others.

Thank you.

Interesting. This might encourage members to gain some popularity.
Let's see.

Nice to see this. Pretty cool update

Yes.

So goodluck to you lol, anyone who already has a lot most likely won't get this award... ever.

It's one winner per month sir. No way to "instantly win"

Omniscient - July 1, 2019, 3:54 pm

Quote:doubt I'm gonna win this so I'm going to write a script to delete my reps on everyone

Let me know how that is going to work since you can't delete the pops given.

Quote:actually he could instantly win if he asked people to turn their -reps on him into +rep

That doesn't change original date of Pop given which means it's not within the past month.

flavoral - July 1, 2019, 4:05 pm

(Jul 1, 2019 04:00 PM)xadamxk Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Gross. It's a literal popularity contest now lmao Edit: I guess it's not really any different than before. And you can't really abuse it since it's based on rep date. After thinking about it, this actually works out pretty well. Over the initial hype, I think this will be good for newer, less known members.

It can still be abused if people delete the rep and rep again.

EDIT: nvm didn't see omni's reply above you

2 things, wouldnt it be fair to reset pop to give those who accumulated pop from the majority of the active upgraded members? second, whats stopping people from buying pop like they already do now? or is that fair game for the award? just curious.

Dorrance - July 2, 2019, 1:03 pm

I never knew this was alive again. I guess maybe one day we will get it put up on my wall of awards.

So it's randomly chosen throughout popularity that month or just highest popularity gained?

No, because that would lead imho to more unnatural attempts to rig the award.

Hydra - July 8, 2019, 5:44 pm

I'm curious if people will put in the effort to pay for popularity points. Is there any rule to that? If caught/reported for paying monetary value to get popularity points. I get it's harder for those with 1,000+ pop already but still am curious if it'll become a thing. Maybe as time goes by it'll die down and those who truly deserve it begin to earn/win it.

dont think MoTM will be a true MoTM. the limits on how many times you can give popularity should be lower like they were for rep back in the day....its so unfair another way to fix this would be to make it so that popularity isn't calculated by how much you receive.

but by:

how much you receive MINUS how much you give so that people value it a lot more.

otherwise, limiting the uses... i think the limit is 20/day. that's insane.

Or maybe if you get past a certain point. Then you get put on a list example 20 people then someone rolls a dice and it then picks a random person from the 20 people.
