So basically I made a little over $1K in almost 2 days doing this new strategy I'm using with Crypto Trading.

Yes of course it's the basic "Buy low sell high" technique but with a little bit of a *touch*, and also what really gives me these profits:

I have 3-4 Consistent Buyers DAILY who pay 50% INTEREST via PayPal, Zelle, or Square
Finally found me a legal non-BS method to make money and so far its going very well.

Spagyracist - July 3, 2019, 3:37 am

Is this through Paxful? If so, would you mind sharing your buyers with me, and I will do the same in turn?

Also inb4 all of the "iTz FrAuD" comments...

It's almost as if people can't fathom that people pay extra for the anonymity, simplicity, efficiency. Some folks just really don't want bitcoin tied to shit like a Coinbase account linking to their real life name and ID, incase they ever use it on the darknet etc.

Additionally some people pay more because they know the value of bitcoin can go far higher than what they just paid for it. It's why you pay more at the corner store for a gallon of milk than you do at Walmart. It's called convenience. I've had corner stores charge me nearly 2x the price as other stores like Kroger, Safeway, Walmart; etc...

But I guess "iTz FrAuD"

:Lel

It's almost as if most of you have no real understanding of how Bitcoin derives its value. People can literally sell their Bitcoin for whatever value they bloody want to. It's why the price of Bitcoin crashes when people sell it for far lower than the market value because it's price is derived from the averages of trades. So if people can sell it for less than it's actual value, why can't they pay more?

/rantThanks for explaining that before I had to lol.

I don't really wanna give out my buyers considering it's making me profit and doing that will just give me competition.

How much did you need to have in crypto to get started?

I was tempted to do the same things but didnt want to invest over $1k realistically.

I was tempted to do the same things but didnt want to invest over $1k realistically.I started with $100 and got about $150 out of it, then took another $210 of mine and turned the $360 into $500+ After that flipping that $500 I just started putting every $250 in profit away I made and kept doing $500 at a time.

Sooner than I thought I was banking over $1k in profit

xiovv - July 3, 2019, 12:38 pm

i dont think you understand what it takes to earn $500 per day

I just took $600 of that and I'm in the process of turning it into $900+ and putting $300 or so of it to the side. I know my shit, I got the buyers for it, You're on crack.

Also, yes eWhorers make more than me probably but also gotta worry about legal shit if they get caught.

This at least I can put it down as legally made money.

Just a note to leave there, wanted ppl to know doing this I dont gotta look over my shoulder and make stealth PayPals, Banks, etc..^^

Don't listen to haters lol

But I'm wondering how do you make it in one day? Don't you have to wait a few days for the price to change and go up? Or do you just invest a shit load at once? Sounds really cool. I e-whore and we don't make more than you.

I e-whore and we don't make more than you. well considering the price of BTC keeps dropping down to like 10K at the lowest, then jumping back up to 12k and it stays around that range, it's easy to sell.

Plus as I said, I have buyers who pay 50% interest so thats also one of the reasons I'm profiting so much.

I've been investing both in Stocks, Forex and mainly crypto since I was like 15, now I'm 20 but I've just been super lazy to invest and now that I'm making this big amount of money as a LEGAL income not having to worry about anything, I have a bigger motivation to trade Cryptocurrencies, mainly bitcoin but also Bitcoin Cash as well on the side.

It's honestly all about calculating when a good "low point" would be for buying BTC for example, and then being able to figure out what the high or the "peak" is to sell it.

Not much "private knowledge" since most investors know the same thing, that's how u make money. Also just a tip if u were to do this don't come to HF for buying BTC cuz places like Coinbase, Crypto.com and some others have lower fees and have a guarantee for not getting scammed, whereas HF some people scam or they just a high exchange rate.

Oh and just to add on to this in case you think it's something else, here's my Paxful trades I successfully completed.

The one for $320 I already cashed out, but the other two are the payments I got shown in the OP pics.

nice man hope i will be there soon

FiggerNaggot - July 6, 2019, 3:49 pm

Receiving the payments through PayPal? Damn, make sure you update when all those payments get charged back and you're in negative balance.

Spaark - July 6, 2019, 4:10 pm

Y'all need to get some profile pictures.

and OP: while this is cool and all I'd stop using paypal if I were you. This is pretty insane that you can find such clients to yield high Currency Exchange rates. They're dumb as fuck. Congrats.

PayPal isn't good ik, one reason being cuz they limit your account for BS reasons.

Also I heard they don't always side with you if someone charges back and it wasn't even a fraud purchase, they still refund the buyer.

What other options is there though, I can use GoFundMe but idk that'll be any safer Paypal ToS doesn't allow for crypto trading.

I wouldn't call that legal money. If you intend on selling any financial securities, which in this case is crypto, you should be licensed to manage others' money.

FiggerNaggot - July 6, 2019, 7:46 pm

99% sure it is fraud though. The people paying you are using stolen funds... I'll be surprised if you dont get all the funds charged back within a week or two. Good luck though.

Not a bad earnings man but what you do is risky
