Thread: [\[Unofficial Group\] The Coven - Spirituality Based Group](#)

Pikachu - July 12, 2019, 8:52 pm

The Coven - Spirituality Based Group

The Coven is a spiritual based group where we discuss and cover various different topics such as philosophy, metaphysics, pseudoscience, witchcraft and magick, ancient civilizations, esoteric topics, consciousness, psychedelics, meditation, mysticism, shamanism, religion, reiki and energy manipulation, secret societies and orders, ancient texts and grimoires, demonology, angelology, astrology, zodiacs, crystals and much more. This group is open to anyone with an open mind who may be interested in such topics, or simply if you just want to learn more. Those who wish to explore their spirituality are always welcomed. We are a group of diversity, no matter what your beliefs are, what religion, gender, age, sexuality, or race you are, we welcome you with open arms. This is a hate-free group, no hate, trolls or overall negativity will be tolerated. Don't be afraid to apply within this thread, simply tell us why you'd like to be apart of it. Any trolls, hate or negativity posted within this thread will be reported as harassment, so please, if you have nothing positive or nice to say, don't say anything at all. Be mature and act like a civilized human being.

Namaste everybody, and blessed be.

Spaark - July 13, 2019, 5:03 am

Looking forward to chatting with the future applicants. This group may turn official someday. Best get in early.

I have really been trying to get into meditation to get some relaxation from "real" life. I guess you can call what I am trying to do is find your real self. I am just trying to get away from the whole media manipulation, would love to see how members are still into media feeds but still doing what their heart desires.

Chosen 1 - July 14, 2019, 8:20 am

I sold my soul to the devil so I would fit in nice

Also, most of us are against darkness and negative intentions, we focus more on the light and positive intentions but we do discuss and learn about both the light and the dark, and why you should always stay away from the dark or "evil" side for various reasons.

I wish I was trolling, but I couldn't definitely advocated on staying away from the dark

I started meditation about 2 years ago and I have been taking breaks. now I meditate now and then not every day tho.

I don't really know if LD (Lucid dreaming) fits for this group but I think It should.

LD is kinda my main Spiritual thing.

I would be more then happy to share my experience with LD and if you guys have any I would like to hear them :)

I mean you may still join as long as you remain positive within the group. Whatever you practice on your own time is on you, were not here to force beliefs on anyone nor are we here to push people aside for whatever it is they believe in or follow. We do however offer advises on these types of topics and such. It's up to the individual if they chose to follow the advises or not. :)

I have never experienced astral projection. my mentor told me it will take some hard dedication and continuous meditation and right now I only meditate 2-3 times a week.

I see, yeah I have yet to achieve that as well. But I plan to one day reach that state of conciousness and be able to astral project. :)

Oh shit you lucid dream??? I do too! It's incredible and out of this world, I'm pretty good at getting into the dreamscape.

At first it was hard, my first one was when I was in the bath after being super tired, and I kept pinching myself and making my consciousness aware of patterns.

Next thing, I was gone, I was still awake, but asleep, it's extremely hard to explain but I could literally do what I wanted and it was just godly.

The next one was a bit naughtier, that was one of the best moments of my life, lucid dreaming is just a way to hack your mind's trippy tools, try it.

Nope. I'm a light skinned Puerto Rican, born and raised christian but once I was old enough I went off on my own spiritual path. I also found out not long ago in my ancestral line, I'm also part Taino, which were one of the natives of the Caribbean islands.

I can Vouch that the group is very Peaceful and all about the sharing of knowledge and intellectual discussion. It's a lot of fun, if you're looking for a place to ask outlandish questions without being judged this would be the place.

I can also Vouch that Pikachu is the perfect fit for the leader/owner of this group, and makes sure we're all educated on the topics as we inquire on them.

Good group all in all

DarkMystic - August 3, 2019, 11:27 pm

hello. your group looks intriguing. quick question what does your group think of spiritual satanists

Dvusi - August 3, 2019, 11:39 pm

I'd be down with this group, depending on how "spiritual" it is. I vibe with the topics you mentioned on ancient civilizations, esoteric topics, consciousness, psychedelics, meditation, secret societies, philosophy and metaphysics. Depending on the community here determines how well I fit in, you bring up a hard line between skepticism and science.

I'd be upset if they denied that ideology, I've done some research on satanist morality, it's definitely respectable. The only problem I would see with this group is if they are primarily based on the "good god" religions.

Oh shit, I must've skimmed over that part. Either way, has anybody here successfully summoned a demon?

Because I believe I may have, although it wasn't a physical summon.

After a ritual I went home, went to bed and apparently I started a lucid dream. I was in an endless shallow pool full of black water, with a purple sky and no sun in the distance. A floating shadowlike cloud/lightsource thingy asked me what I most desire... To which I responded "you tell me..." before being promptly sucked into a whirlpool and ejected from the dream so hard I woke up in a cold sweat. The time on the clock was 00:00, an hour after I came home.

I've had bad experiences in the past with certain demons, which is why its a topic i prefer to learn about and study rather than practice myself, its just a personal experience thing but my advice to you is tread carefully, always be careful because demons may seem to want to be your friend for a while, but they may turn on you eventually.

I don't know if it counts. But I do yoga every morning. I also do calisthenics which requires a serious amount of mind - body control and connection.

When I do yoga I somehow feel euphoric. I do yoga with my eyes closed, and when I open it all colors are clear and shiny for a few minutes.

I don't know if I'm a spiritual person. But I am generally pretty open minded.

Xphile - September 16, 2019, 4:10 pm

Absolutely wanting to join this group.

I come from a family of individuals with an active interest in the magical side of life, some on the "right" path - others on the "left". (I don't particularly believe in these constrictions, magic is magic, and the discerning magician should use their power to its fullest!)

My mother is a witch (she's experienced in Christian, Thelemic, Pagan, Wiccan and Celtic beliefs and magic) who still practices occasionally - she's also very generously given me a number of books and lectures on practical magic, various relatives work with cartomancy and tarot, others have been involved with Thelema in the past.

I'm lucky that often misrepresented occult belief systems have so many practitioners in the UK. ?

Personally, the "rational", earthly, practical approach to magic (such as manipulating myself and other people with applied psychology) has been working for me so far, I've been applying a Satanic philosophy to how I live for a number of years and the results have been excellent.

As it stands, I'm reading up on Chaoism (not too far from my current system of magic) and Haitian Vodou (I'm hoping to build up a "personal pantheon" with various deities from different belief systems).

For as long as I can remember, I've always been agnostic to everything when it comes to spirituality/magic, because I can't [dis]prove this kind of thing (existence of magic, ""God"", our objective purpose in life etc).

So with that said, I'm willing to listen to and understand as much as possible from other members of the The Coven.

As Peter J. Carroll said: "Nothing is true, everything is permitted, which is to say that everything is possible, there are no certainties, and the consequences can be ghastly."

EDIT: Read some of your posts regarding the group and where its focus lies, I'm happy to see that you aren't afraid to accept the "darker" side of this sort of thing. I have always looked to what benefits me most, so-called "good" and so-called "evil" don't really come into the equation for me, I apply this same mode of thinking to magic and belief.

Hello, it interests me to join you for the sharing of knowledge, I practice a bit of spirituality in passing

Presocratic - October 22, 2019, 10:27 am

Spirituality is the knowledge of man by man. It's an art that we all practice unconsciously, but bringing it to the conscious transforms the world in which one lives. It brings answers to the questions that only one asks. It helps you to realize how beauty, relations, jobs can come and go, but your essence will always stay with you, guiding every step of the way.

Our generation has improved in the control of its surroundings, it has sent humans to space and it lit up whole cities, but we are empty trays because we went away from the root of all knowledge and that is SPIRITUALITY.

I would love to see what you guys have to offer and discuss interesting subjects with all of you! I do not know if I am old enough in the forum in order to be part of a group but it would be nice to share!

LoremIpsum - October 22, 2019, 10:33 am

I'm pretty new to this website, but I always admired groups. I heard from one of the group leaders of HF that I had to pay a various amount of money to join one.

The thing is, I am spiritual, from horoscope up to esoteric knowledge of our previous lives, extraterrestrials and 40 planets around our home planet; Earth. I do respect the elderly, the open-minded and the loving ones. I dislike rude, blunt or close-minded people.

Spirituality is something that suits me as well as money does, for some strange reason I'm no materialistic yet I am very drawn to the unknown of us humans, why everything is so-enormously classified when it comes to the self development of mankind. The "world leaders" are afraid that we find out the truth about why (some of us) we are here on Earth, afraid for the public to find out we don't need materialistic things to be happy. And when we die, we feel nothing but love and one-ness, which is in my opinion the only feeling to real inner happiness.

Basically; I could go on for hours and hours, but my English grammar is holding me back as much as time and space. I would love to join such group, but before I get accepted or even informed about the rules, could you tell me more about your price or requirements to join this group?

I'll vibrate to a higher level of consciousness in order to complete myself for this group, joking of course, but it's really nice to see people with the same mindset, vision of the world and harmonious people here.

Thank you for creating this group and please let me know if I'm accepted or not. Either way, I'd highly appreciate any kind of feedback, regardless of the rejection or acceptance of my participation and application for this group.

Hi there, I realize this is my first post, how ever I am really interested in joining. I've recently become interested in spirituality. For months I have been trying to open my third eye , with out success. I have been listening to binaural beats, and I could always feel the middle of my forehead vibrate, but it never progressed further. I listen to a lot of Aaron Doughty on YouTube, I really like his content. Reading all the various topics this group would cover, I see a lot I'm really interested in learning about, such as Psychedelics, ancient civilizations, secret societies, meditation, and consciousness. I'm very new to Spirituality, and looking for people who I could ask questions too and receive guidance. I've always felt I've had a special reason why I'm on this planet after, everything that has happened too me, and I'm determined to find out what it is!

Thanks for considering me!

Throughout life I have been searching for alternatives to typical standards of "meditation" to establish a sense of peace and tranquility, but I think my awareness for the spiritual world leads me to be unable to dedicate 100% mind biased on 'calmness'. I believe this would be a great opportunity for me to discuss my beliefs and my experiences with other members and also help myself learn other ways to deal with 'everyday life'.

Next thing, I was gone, I was still awake, but asleep, it's extremely hard to explain but I could literally do what I wanted and it was just godly.

The next one was a bit naughtier, that was one of the best moments of my life, lucid dreaming is just a way to hack your mind's trippy tools, try it.

I would be interested in joining such topics as spiritual demons/angels. Stuff like that has always fascinated me. American Horror Story is one of my favorite shows as it deals with similar topics.

I used to be big into psychedelics and was active in the Vices section for a while, though i'm not big into voodoo or witchcraft or anything about that it still is fascinating and i'm sure I could educate myself within the group.

May I please join this group? I'm all for Lucid Dream and Astral Projection. Was raised in a family having parents practicing self healing and actually benefited dramatically from it when it got me thru a trauma incident. I have had period of my life when I literally fail to engage in anything but soul searching, or "finding myself within", you know...stuff that old souls do apparently. Got introduced to Ancient Aliens somewhat recently, although it's not exactly what my main focus is about, but it's def a new baffle to my mind which of course goaded me to target more knowledge objectives to the timeline of my life.

Anyways, I was born in Taiwan, moved to Cali when I was 8, which was 20 years ago. So if you graduated basic math then my age shouldn't be unknown to you. Im all about meeting new people. Honestly I joined this forum bcus I needed help targeting some freaking scammers fr om Nigeria, still in that process and would appreciate deeply for any help or witful advice. But after signing up on the site I immediately realized that besides my original purpose, there's so much more potential knowledge and knowledgeable potentials that I NEED be apart of or at least be aware of before I put an ending to the HF Chapter of my life, if EVER, that is.

Well, let's get to know each other and create/sustain the unconditional love and knowledge right here, where some would call it the darker side of the cyber world.

PotatoAim - January 22, 2020, 11:15 am

I was ill with Lymes disease for 3 years when beginning at the age of 13. As I was stuck in bed at home all the time, I got into meditation, astral projection, and putting my mind in deep deep states of meditation as time went on. I personally believe it is what carried me through the illness. I read 24/7, listen to audiobooks, and podcasts about different mystical teachings and practices. I have found very interesting parallels between all religions. I hope to finish my degree in theology, philosophy, and computer science. My close circle of friends we are all spiritual and discuss different findings, practices, techniques, and ideas with each other.

This sounds like something you guys are but online, I would love to join.

Hi Pikachu! I'm head over heels about spirituality and discussing what's actually good thing to do in various situations. I'm surrounded by like minded people :)!

I'd totally love to be apart of the group and meet you all. I even have a couple of tattoos that have spiritual symbolism. That's pretty much it, even though I feel like writing a lot more!

IF we talk about psychedelics DMT (The spiritual Molecule) has changed my mindset a lot. It brought me to a positive end of myself. The thought of giving happiness to other people. I have been always searching on Astral Travels, OBEs, NDEs, and many similar things a lot. I always try to case study people with NDEs and try to match things with other cases. What is life after death? What about if we can remember our last life facts? I am sure "The Coven" must have members and answers to things I have always wanted to know, to discuss and this itself makes me to apply for the group. I have explored shamanism, and journey which you make during the process. I have even done a lot of research of spells and witchcraft. So a lot of topics which I wish to explored are all contained within one single group. Hopefully I get accepted for the group.

EDIT: This Thread is so positive and lucky that I got my first Egg from this post.

Very nice, congrats on the egg! I believe the Coven gives everyone a chance to freely express their beliefs and thoughts on different paths or subjects in life the average person would give you weird looks or question your sanity.

We do discuss psychedelics and all other things. We help give suggestions and advice when someone is seeking guidance or help to understand things. Sometimes its nice to have a human answering questions rather Google because humans can give personal experience and feelings of understanding.

I wonder if Dissociation is apart of the discussion. Growing up I dealt and still deal with dissociative states of mind. I have an alter that developed during my middle school years due to bullying. I'm also trans and haven't had much support in these recent years so and I would like to have a group I could just speak my mind and have discussions on things other than media and politics.
