Can anyone recommend any good sites that offer online lessons / videos / etc that you found useful for researching crypto? I'm not looking for anything specific but just to understand more about cryptocurrencies.

Binance is a great site for checking charts such as live trading and depth charts. Otherwise a great place to search for any information is newsnow.co.uk It's a news aggregator, just put a keyword into the search and it will show you all the most recent headlines from news agencies around the world.
