Thread: [\[FREE Limited Time\] Python Web Automation Service | Need Something Automated Online?](#)

Ri?dle - July 6, 2019, 5:48 am

Going to do a few free projects just to get credibility, depending on project size / how long it will take to develop

Things I can do:

- Login Cracker (assuming no captchas) - Can input username and password into a website automatically
- Scraping data - Can scrape data that requires you to be logged in if data is not visible when not logged in or, just data on a website
- Automated availability checks on a username/email for a website - Can check, say, yahoo email, i.e hello123@yahoo.com is not taken
- Any type of GET / POST / (ect) request that needs to be automated
- Can implement proxies into the program
- Can implement threading into the program

Can do other stuff not web related as well, but my strong suit is web automation.
if you're interested in whether or not I can do something that doesn't have to do with web automation, PM me

If you want something, PM me with what you want in detail, and a price, (or if you don't have a price in mind I'll give you the cheapest price I have in mind for the project). If I don't understand what you want I'll ask for your discord, or if you rather just talk to me on discord put your discord in the PM.

I have PM'ed you with a project which requires heavy web scraping and automation on PC.
Will leave you a detailed review if you're willing to take this project.

I'm interested in a python script. I currently have one (probably around 80 lines) and it was made for an old API, but they updated the API so it no longer works. I would ideally like you to make it work with the new API then possibly a few small QOL additions! If this seems somewhat interesting I can send you a pm with more info!

This would be really appreciated

HUGE vouch for this service. OP was on top of his shit, fast response time and if I had any questions/tweaks he was quick at helping me out! I recommend you to use him, he got it done fast af.

Thanks again! GLWS
