Yes the theme is 100% custom and done by iAndrew for the forum and the admins are working on fixing bugs :)

And yes, we aren't super expanded when it comes to sections and users, but we hope to be big for roblox and fortnite

Looks pretty good if you ask me.

Hope it goes far, and knocks other toxic communities out of the water.

I was able to get you activated! Try again.

Very weird how you never received it. After admins promoting no users haven't received their email, but no worries now :) Should be activated That's basically the case with most forums nowadays. People just aren't interested in building an entirely new community from the ground up anymore.

straight facts, happened to many of the forums i was active on.

N1ghtm4re - July 9, 2020, 10:28 am

Yet another good concept that was doomed to fail due to no actual planning, you can have the greatest design but if you lack substance, quality, originality, and drive with a forum it will surely fail.

Sad to see another one bite the dust.

OxaByte - July 26, 2020, 3:12 am

The forum is not opening. Let me once once its up so i can post my review.
