Found this thread, decided to go first to get a linux server. As I joined his discord and he had a fair amount of vouches.

I shouldn't of went first.

As you can see from his thread his website is "cyrex.services" watch out. I was an idiot for not making a contract & going first.

Guy was extremely arrogant on discord and claimed he was out of stock after i paid and said i had to wait 4 days, he then refused to give me a refund. And then he removed me from discord afterwards. Pathetic.

Yes. You are a giant idiot for not dealing with a contract.

Lol, guy's now claiming I threatened and argued with him on discord. When in reality, all I did was laugh at him when he said "Refund's are against my TOS".

Don't get scammed.

Use of contracts is required. There is no excuse for not using them.
