The AI engine is trained over time as you bet and becomes better and better in predicting roll patterns. The bot then uses that information to dynamically change the roll predictions. These unique features help to better avoid losing streaks and beat the house edge over long runs and maximize your profit.*

I bought the platinum package and can confidently say that the bot does exactly as is advertised.

Upon signing up, you get 500 lucky coins (which is the local on site currency). I used these 500 tokens to test the bot overnight. I woke up to a balance of 553 which was a 10.6% increase in my balance.

An hour ago, I deposited 0.025 BTC, and within an hour my balance is at 0.0259373, this is a 3.74% increase in my balance in about an hour. Of course, there is a risk to gambling, but I am very satisfied with my purchase. Although my gains are not HUGE, but that is because my balance is not a lot either. The more you start with, the more you will make back. I just put in a small amount to test with. Will be depositing more and be posting back in a week or so on my progress.

Bets after 9 hours of running bot

Balance after 8 hours of running bot on lucky coins and 1 hour on BTC.

Packages:

1. Bronze: one coin of your choice | 10 rounds of betting | basic AI engine (price: 0.005 btc)
2. Silver: two coin of your choice | 100 rounds of betting | intermediate AI engine (price: 0.01 btc)
3. Gold: three coin of your choice | 1000 rounds of betting | advanced AI engine (price: 0.02 btc)
4. Platinum: all available coins (100) | unlimited rounds of betting | highly advanced AI engine (price: 0.04 btc)

*This is a high-end bot and nothing like bustashit and cheap martingale scripts in the market. for these packages the betting round can be reset by simply restarting the bot. However, resetting the bot also resets the AI engine. To fully utilize the power of AI engine the more advanced packages are recommended.

disclaimer: although the bot places very tight stop-loss and uses every measure to avoid a loss to try to give you an edge over the house, this is still gambling and not a 100% guaranteed winning strategy (which would be mathematically impossible)

Yes, works on chromebook, rdp, or phone.

it depends on few factors including your internet speed and the package you purchase. Realistically there's potential to make 5-20% ROI per week.

it depends to a few factors but in average you could expect 5-30% ROI a week in average once the ai is trained. You can define the risk tolerance in the bot panel and go for higher or lower profit depending on risk level you choose.

The main thing is that the bot prioritizes avoiding losing streaks over maximizing profit so you won't lose all your money at once like the simple martingale scripts.

Ah I see, that's actually pretty clever. How many run throughs are needed to train the AI? 5-30% is also a pretty big gap of ROI haha. Positive which is good still but I guess since it's still gambling it depends on a lot of variables.

The AI engine is trained as you bet, so the longer you run the bot uninterrupted the better training sessions and hence the better predictions become. The Platinum package can be run uninterrupted while the others need to be reset manually as described in the package description.

The bot uses a very tight stop-loss and makes every measure to minimize the risk of losing money, and that's why the profits are lower than risky strategies that you see in the market. And you are right, as I mentioned in my original post, this is still gambling and there's a chance that you lose. What the bot does is to fight the house edge and give you an edge over the house to win big.

So it's another gambling method where profit isn't guaranteed since eventually you lose all profit?

BlackXPearL - July 15, 2019, 2:41 pm

(Jul 15, 2019 02:24 PM)Demonata Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) So it's another gambling method where profit isn't guaranteed since eventually you lose all profit?

1. The profit is not guaranteed because that's is mathematically impossible. Anyone who claims that is a scam or an idiot, or both!

2. This is not one of those cheap bustashit scripts which are nothing more than a plain martingale strategy and you will lose all ur money if you play them. This is a fully automated bot with a humanized user interface and a built in AI engine that analyses roll patterns and tries to avoid losing streaks using that information. It basically tries to fight the house edge and give you a chance to win big (imagine instead of 100 shots at a goal you are given 1000 shots. That would increase the likelihood of you winning, but still there's a chance that you lose).

3. The bot plays with a very tight stoploss, so unlike martingale strategies where there's a good chance that you lose all your money, here even if the bot fails, in every round you won't lose more than 0.1% of your investment. Besides, the bot gets better as you bet and the AI engine is trained, so you would see improvement in performance over time.

It is not possible to predict next roll, but using AI it is possible to estimate likelihood of predictions in the next x rolls based on over- and under-estimation of certain rolls. In a simple scenario, let's assume you are betting for rolls under 50 and in the past 1000 rolls there has been 750 rolls above 50. Since the rolls should follow a binomial distribution, it is more likely that in the next 1000 rolls, rolls under 50 are more likely to happen. This is of course not an absolute predication, but an estimation of what is likely to happen based on previous rolls and statistical analysis. The bot uses the AI engine to do all calculations on the fly and dynamically adjust the bets and stop-loss as you bet (unlike bustashit scripts that only follow a single strategy and are doomed to lose). The Platinum version is also able to change the client seed whenever faced with a losing streak to avoid being trapped in losing streaks, something that is not possible with any other script!

BlackXPearL gave me a vouch copy and here is my 100% honest review.

He was very responsive and quick to help me get setup. I ran into a few issues, but he helped me resolve them.

I will rate the bot 10/10 as it is very detailed and nice design overall. It could use miner GUI fixes, but very minor.

I ran a total of 4 test and results are as follows with Bronze version.

Test #1

Starting Balance: 0.10155029

Ending Balance: 0.10331388
Total Profit: 0.00176359

Test #2

Starting Balance: 0.10331388
Ending Balance: 0.10213532
Total Profit: -0.00117856

Test #3

Starting Balance: 0.10213532
Ending Balance: 0.10129601
Total Profit: -0.00083931

Test #4

Starting Balance: 0.10129601
Ending Balance: 0.09977726
Total Profit: -0.00151875

Overall Profit: -0.00177303

Take note I did use maximum risk with his bot which was 0.00001, but I'm uncertain how that affects the bot because it would start the base bet with 91-95 satoshi or 0.00000091-0.00000095. I used Ethereum for this so I would have a bigger starting balance. I tried to get maximum results by using a greater balance and a higher risk, but with the Bronze package it didn't work too well as this is gambling and there's always risk.

BlackXPearL did say that this is an AI learning bot and was able to see it in action so I do think the Silver, Gold, or Platinum would be a better purchase as it can run longer to possibly predict better outcomes and will have time to recover loses if any.

I will say I think the bot is over priced since it is a gambling related method/bot there's a chance you don't profit. I'm sure BlackXPearL put a lot of work into creating this, but as I said, "I" personally think it's over priced although others may not.

GLWS and thanks for letting me review your product/bot. ?

You need a training dataset to train the AI for every new seed which are generated for every new browser session. Since you don't know the seed beforehand you cannot pre-train the AI (Jul 15, 2019 09:58 PM)Xault Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) What website is this for?

the bot is configured for luckygames.io for now but the AI engine is the same for every dice casino and the bot can be customized for your casino of your choice for an additional fee

Thank you for your detailed feedback. A couple of notes:

1. I did mention that if your balance is low run the bot on the lowest risk level. I respect that you decided to choose the higher risk level and that's likely why you ended up on a loss. You need to adjust the bot parameters based on the instructions if you don't want to leave the outcome to chance
2. The base bet is determined based on your balance. Risk level defines how the bot performs in terms of placing bets in each round. higher risk means faster profit but riskier strategy. Lower risk means a safer strategy but slower profit.
3. The bronze version which was given for the vouch stops after 10 rounds and need to be reset along with the AI engine. So, training dataset is very limited. As you mentioned, the more advanced version the longer training session and the better predictions become.

Lol you sound like a naïve first year university student who just had his first statistics course.

It is true that the result of flipping a coin, or in this case rolling the dice, follows a binomial distribution (approximately as the winning chance is 49%, but let's assume the ideal case where it really is 50/50). What must be kept in mind here is that each roll is an independent event, and past rolls DO NOT influence future rolls (the r.v. is i.i.d).

BlackXPearL Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Since the rolls should follow a binomial distribution, it is more likely that in the next 1000 rolls, rolls under 50 are more likely to happen. This is therefore not true. Although this might seem counter-intuitive, after a long series of heads, when I toss the coin again tails is not more likely to come. The coin has no memory (or the events are independent).

It's an automatic betting script that takes into account for losing streaks, but absolutely not an "Ultimate Money Making Machine". Sorry to crush your dreams.

NOTE TO EVERYONE: If you want to make money, automatic gambling scripts are not the way to go. They will give you absolutely no advantage compared to normal betting. If they did, casino's and betting sites would not exist.
