Thread: [\[Amazing Console Player\] First Fortnite Minitage \[Amazing Console Player\]](#)

Nyx - July 14, 2019, 6:09 pm

My buddy recently has been trying to grow his fortnite presence to get into the competitive streaming scene.

He is a console player who plays on PC.

He just released his first fortnite montage today to get his youtube out there.

If you guys could give any feedback what so ever I would appreciate it a lot, he is an absolute animal for a console player.

To be honest there's nothing very mechanically crazy in those clips. I would like to see some real edit plays and build fights in stuff like this.

It's more just stuff that any decent player does in every pub game (right hand peeks, window edits, etc)

But gl to him nonetheless

The point was more for his building and editing speed while on a controller. For a controller that is extremely fast. His TRN rating was like extremely high.

Just watch faze sway, issa, or even jarvis tbh.

or this guy lol <https://www.youtube.com/user/GetTheEJist>

But i'd say he just post scrim montages/more actual gameplay that showcases his skill, many people are quick with it in creative.
