Thread: Trust scan gone?

Katyuska - July 16, 2019, 1:28 am

Did the trust scan get deleted or am I just missing it somehow with the new layout? I really can't find it.

Edit: Nevermind, I found it... Market profile small button marked TS . between pm and all contracts.

Its gone atm, but many users have pointed it out in the thread about the new profile design, so i am pretty sure it will be added asap. :)

Kinda fun trying to figure out where everything is and what the symbols represent. First thing I did was click everything in the new layout to see what was what haha. Looks fucking great by the way. Congrats

I absolutely hate the "Click everything to see what it does" game, i prefer things look clean and are easy to find, but im old which could be why i dont like the idea of changing stuff that works fine and serves the purpose :D

Looking forward to see the trustscan being easy to find tho, since its a very important feature that every member should use and be able to find easily when entering a persons profile, especially for new members.

You can still access it by this link: <https://hackforums.net/trustscan.php?uid=2> - Just go to the user's profile and copy their UID then enter it there.

Click the hamburger button below their avatar to access their Trust Scan on the new profile design.

Did you just put it there? It wasn't there yesterday, right?

He is actually a hivemind working to keep HF fresh and running!

If you want to see a good trust scan you should check out Omni's trust scan. ? ?
