Warning signs how to recognize a scammer selling any docs exploit builders:

1. He/she doesn't give vouch copies.
2. He/she posts a YouTube video with doubtful "proofs".
3. He/she specifies Skype as only contact.

Probably, anybody can add something else :)

If I am wrong I gonna be surprised.

Mon£y - July 25, 2019, 10:24 am

BE CAREFUL WITH THIS USER

He sells a PDF exploit that doesn't exist, never gave any vouch copies, brand new user..

I'd personally stay away from him. You've been warned.

Just dispute the contract, describe the situation and then he might be banned. If you dont dispute contract, he will scam more people

Debugger - July 29, 2019, 6:07 am damn guys how can you believe him for $800 he's totally new user & now he has an open dispute also so stay away from this thread until he resolves that

I thought everyone can share any file there
Or Anonfile is not trusted? I mean the service itself?

It shares files with the AV companies. Causes detections and problems.

This is a sales thread people. If you feel this is potentially dangerous, report it to staff or make a community alert with enough proof.

Its not a sales thread, its a scam Thread.

Did you actually go through the thread?

Those warning potential victims are correct.

Not everyone can see through scams like this.

I blame the victims though but its not wrong to help others.
