Finally have been able to finish a beat that doesn't sound corny. Let me know what you think...

Hey bro just gave your beat a listen and I like the concept of it being an anthem. I would make everything besides the melody louder. It felt like I needed to hear them 808s go off and they just didn't hit. Now this might be due to me listening on my laptop but thats what I took from your art. Keep following your passion and keep getting better.
