Does anyone know of a good dork scanner for linux, more specifically for Kali Linux? I can't seem to find one that works.

@FCC I can not post links, but SQLIV works for me on my updated Kali Linux distro. Do a search on GitHub for SQLIV. Then git clone install. If you have issues installing it pip2 the requirements.txt file.

Thank you, I tried that but kept getting errors with it. I didn't use pip2 though I used pip, idk if it matters but i'll try pip2.

Edit: I got it working thank you again.

Edit: I got it working thank you again. Fantastic, another descent one is venom scanner. My g/f wrote a revised version of d4rkd0rker. I will see if she will let me snag it off her and post it here.
