YeA, if it counts, i saw this show called Dark

Weird part about it, its in german so if youre down to read subtitles be my guest, its about time travel, tbh thought itd be some bad show, but it was not that bad hahaha

I've lastly watched Stranger things, and was actually looking for a TV series recommendation that is themed similarly with Stranger things, perhaps Sci-fi?

Crispysandwhich,

Thanks for your recommendation, but unfortunately I can't bear to watch dubbed or subtitled films, or films in other languages for that matter. It's just not my thing.

Stranger things is awesome! Give it a go!

hell na, i tried watching it when it first came out, lowkey cringy, and tbh it did just turn into a meme. idk felt like it wasnt so much worth the time anymore.

but never mind the netflix tv show have you seen altered carbon tbh i think youd like it give some motivation and actually interesting to watch. lowkey makes me wish i could be like the main character cause shit my life sucks you know haha

InvictusLatinus - July 28, 2019, 4:49 pm

I think Stranger things needs to be watched as a whole. I think you've only seen a small part of it. But, anyway, yeah. I'll look into Altered Carbon. I read a short description of it, it sounds promising.

say less homie, enjoy it :) and eh if i get a partner one day and she hasnt seen it yet maybe we'll watch it. Or find a good friend whom is trustworthy. You feel. But eh, stranger things is blah a not too worth de time hahaha

But Enjoy :)

Gilleh - July 29, 2019, 10:27 am

Good Trouble, it's a show that focuses on two main characters from the show "The Fosters". It shows the challenges they face as adults.

Although the direction and all is very impressive, I would not say it is the best show I've ever seen. The plot gets predictable sometimes. The all-time favourite in Drama would be Breaking Bad hands down. Never seen anything like that before or after!

Btw, let me know your movie suggestion man! Hopefully can catch on that sometime soon.

I barely get time after work these days, so usually I prefer to watch lighthearted stuff. Last watched 'The Good Place', which is a very underrated show. You'll love it if you want something easy-peasy.

I've just finished Casa de Papel (Money Heist) can't wait for the season 4, this is so brilliant, always a way to get out of a situation, and you wouldn't imagine how.

You need to see this if you didn't, there are 3 seasons

packofmidgets - July 29, 2019, 5:13 pm

I just started watching Black Sails. I like it so far and hope it gets even better.

hmmm tbh does sounds interesting, had seen it a lot just popping out in recommendation but never thought of actually seeing it but tbh actually sounds good.

Yo check out the OA season 2 i think you'd actually like it, basically a game that was created to find the puzzel of life, and the game is actually quit interesting, but youd need to watch season 1 to actually understand whats up, it can be kinda weird but its quit interesting

ririki - July 29, 2019, 8:54 pm

Guess I'm very weird if I'm going to say this but I don't even know the last time I watched one.

Probably 1 year ago, the first and last tv show.

they all seems so unrealistic to me and I can't stand watching them, it doesn't interest me and I tried plenty of them.

Aphexdon - July 30, 2019, 3:26 am

Currently watching season 2 of The man in the high castle. I know it differs vastly from the book, according to the purists. Its a good show, who doesn't like a bit of alt history/sci fi of an evening.
