Thread: Multi account scammer is active! - Honor And Respect UID=4325956

SIM-4086413 - August 2, 2019, 11:21 am

This guy is clearly making victims.

Reviewers already called him out for selling old saturated (leaked) methods.

Scammer joined 2 days ago and opens multiple method sales thread per day.

He is clearly a multi trying to make victims and people must be warned about him.

Do with this info whatever you want, if i can save one guy from getting scammed i'm already happy.

Interesting though, he already has 6 B-Ratings which seems legit.

Most are vouch copies which resulted in negative reviews.

and others are probably his own account, there is nothing legit about his brating, deal disputes could be opened any moment since it are new deals aswell.

If you really vouch for this guy being legit your credibility is long gone.

Honor And Respect - August 2, 2019, 11:25 am

I have dealt with a couple of users already that wanted to purchase my methods - they had the opportunity to review the methods first and pay me after that. I don't see how this make me a suspicious person. And if there is a contract system that can gain you B-rating - anyone is free to gain some. You are just jealous that I have more B-rating than you not surprised, he is like that one multi scammer who posted 10 methods a day, forgot his name.

His trust scan is cleaner than yours?

I really ain't bothered if you think my credibility is gone, I was just stating that his trust scan is looking a lot cleaner than yours. Simple.

Does not mean I'm sticking up for him nor have you provided much proof that he is a multi/scammer.

So you havent read the shit he sells and the negative reviews he gets?

I even quoted him admitting to selling public leaked methods.

Your credibility is gone aswell.

Idiot i quoted him admitting that hes selling public leaked methods...

All reviews he gets are negative as fuck aswell are you his buddy or something or is that account your personal multi?

Holy damn, it's like talking to a brick wall with you.. Do not even start either you edited the thread when I was pointing that you had no proof...

You've got one quote in the thread, maybe before fully posting the thread you should provide more proof... Like I said. One quote means fuck all.

The reason I've resulted in low intelligent replies is due to the pure ignorance you have and because most people have replied to this thread disagreeing with you, you've managed to get butt hurt and cry.. Get a grip.

He openly admitted to selling public leaked methods from other people.

Multiple people reviewed his shit negatively.

Dude joined 24 hours ago and is already selling 4 or 5 methods.

You're clearly a multi.

A totally new member wouldn't find his way around the forum so easily, let alone find a community alert against him. Just my 2 cents.

I know how I react every time I register on new forum - I can't find basic shit like changing my profile pic, let alone selling, successfully finding sub-forums I'm looking for etc.

Yeah also in his give away he isn't asking for popularity, he's asking for rep.

Also the fact that he knows you can get pop/rep in exchange for giving away bytes through hosting a give-away.

There are so many red flags i have no doubt on my mind about him.

Giveaway is opened the day he joined, which was yesterday.

If you took your time to read the Help Documents, it wouldn't be that hard for you sir. The only complicated thing for me to understand is how to start a contract, luckily they explained it to me :)

Easiest way to get into something is following the experience of people doing it for a longer period (not talking about hosting the contest or so)

None of that makes someone a clear scammer.

Quote:He openly admitted to selling public leaked methods from other people.

So what? That is NOT A POLICY VIOLATION. It's just a shitty thing to do. If it's PUBLIC then he can sell it. This is complete crap to believe you can't. It happens everyday in the real world when copyright is lost. No copyright means EVERYONE CAN SELL IT. So if someone wants to take a "leaked" method and package it up and sell it. They got a RIGHT TO DO SO.

Being a ban evadng multi though, that's a policy violation.
