El Paso police warn of "active shooter" after reports of shots fired at Walmart

Scene is still Active. We have multi reports of multiple shooters. Please avoid area police conducting search of a very large area. Media staging will be given when area is secure.

Just read that there are at least 19 dead and 40 injured. It's crazy how we're so used to events like these happening they seem normal.

This is fucking disgusting. Seriously we hear about shooting so often now this is beyond fucked up. What is making people do this horrible things? I do not understand how humans can just decide to shoot innocent people.

Seriously this is so sickening and it's becoming something more "normal" we hear about it more and more often. This is so fucked up ugh. It just makes me scared to go to big public places anymore what the fucking shit is shit. Why are people like this? I just don't understand. FFS.

There are some very mentally ill people nowadays... such a waste of human life

Yuccy - August 3, 2019, 3:52 pm

This is so sad.. so many shootings THIS MONTH.

It is a must we gotta do something about it..

Rico Project - August 3, 2019, 5:21 pm

This happens in Texas 85% white gun zone... Ok... Red state blood state?

Found it linked in a article from a somewhat reliable news site. I feel it's legitimate.

Police investigating a manifesto was mentioned in what I read today and this mentions it.

Yes it is, got the manifesto myself. Fucking sick, but still 8chan is feds now (which I respect, got to protect the county before your shitpost). The place is still blowing up about the Fbi shutting the place down. This isn't the first national security conflict shared on 8chan, just gotta sit back and see where we go.

People really need to get a grip on themselves because this, this is sick.

Another gunman makes a manifesto but doesn't actually attack the people causing these problems. What a great rational.

We are in a civil war people I don't know how many manifestos you got to see to see all of this was because of media and politics.
